cannot

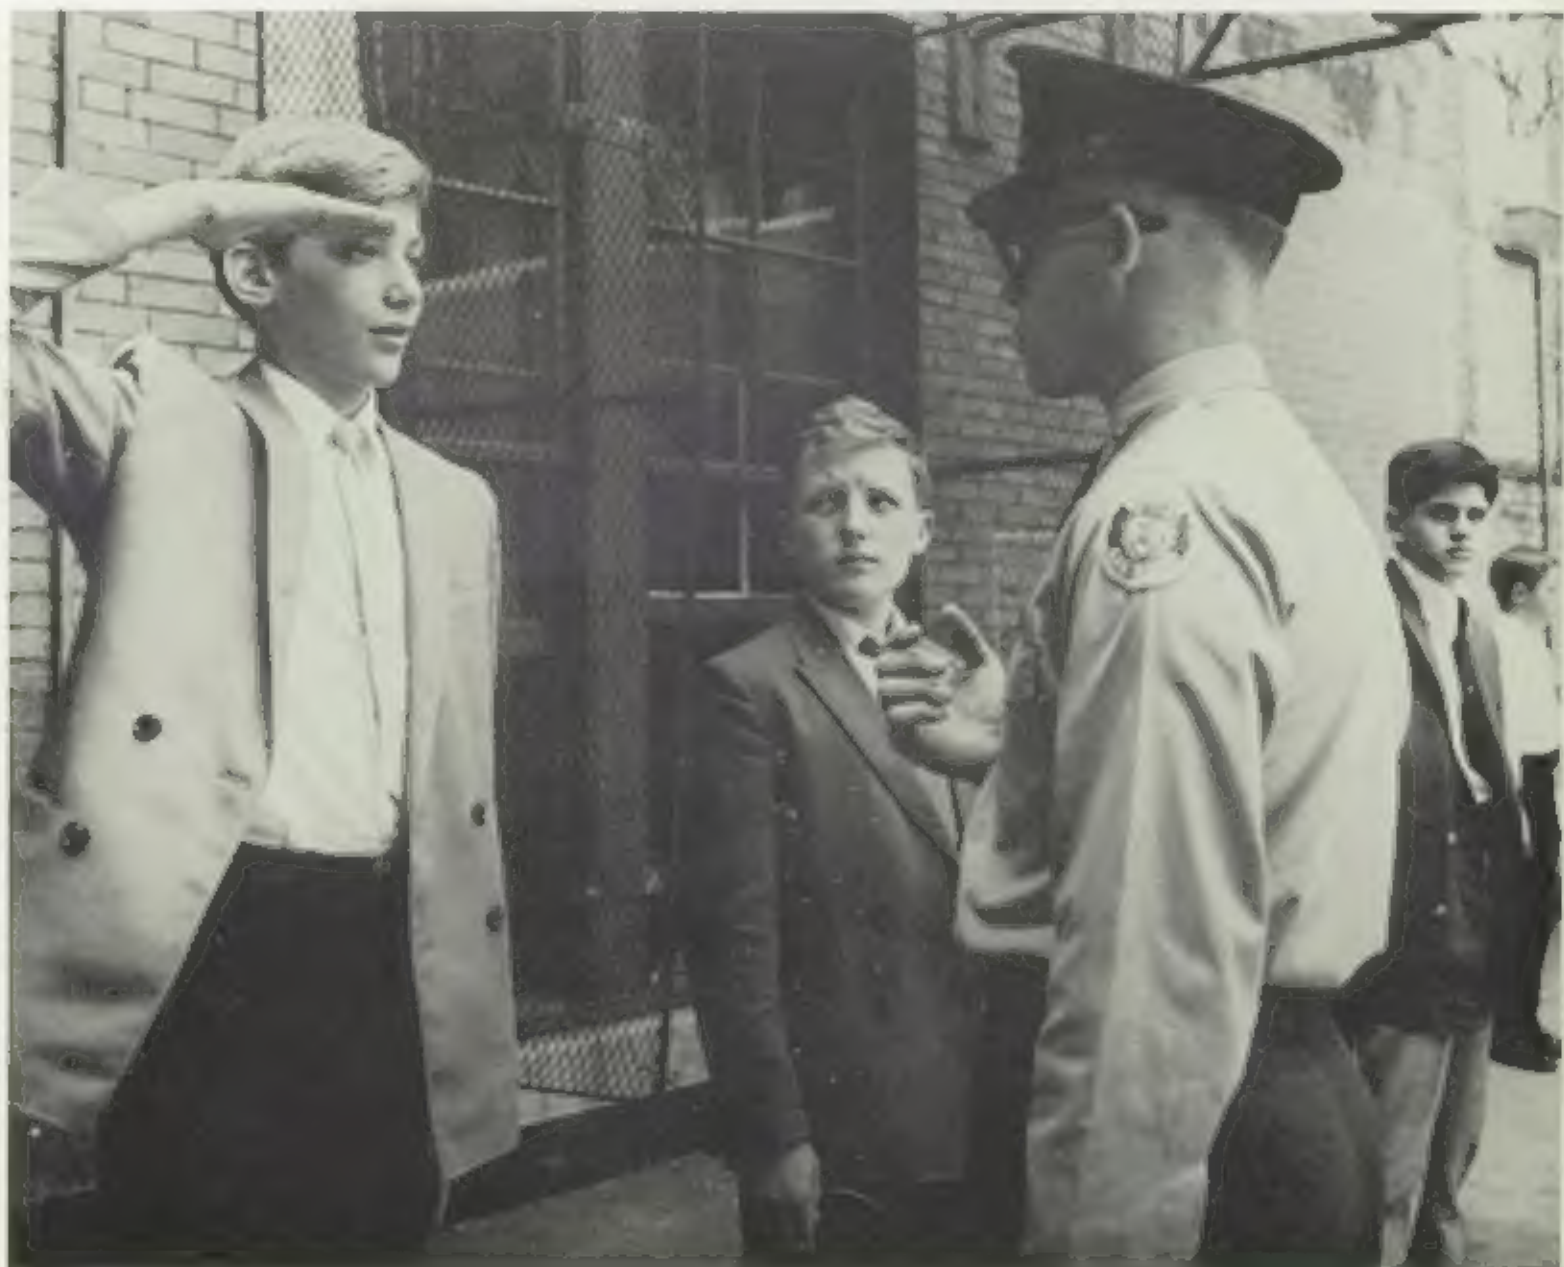

There are many turns to turn,
Many decisions to make;
The world is complex,
And often confused.

Sometimes we act like children,

but at times, we think we're more than we really are.

Sometimes we know where we are going—we have direction,

... but at times we are lost

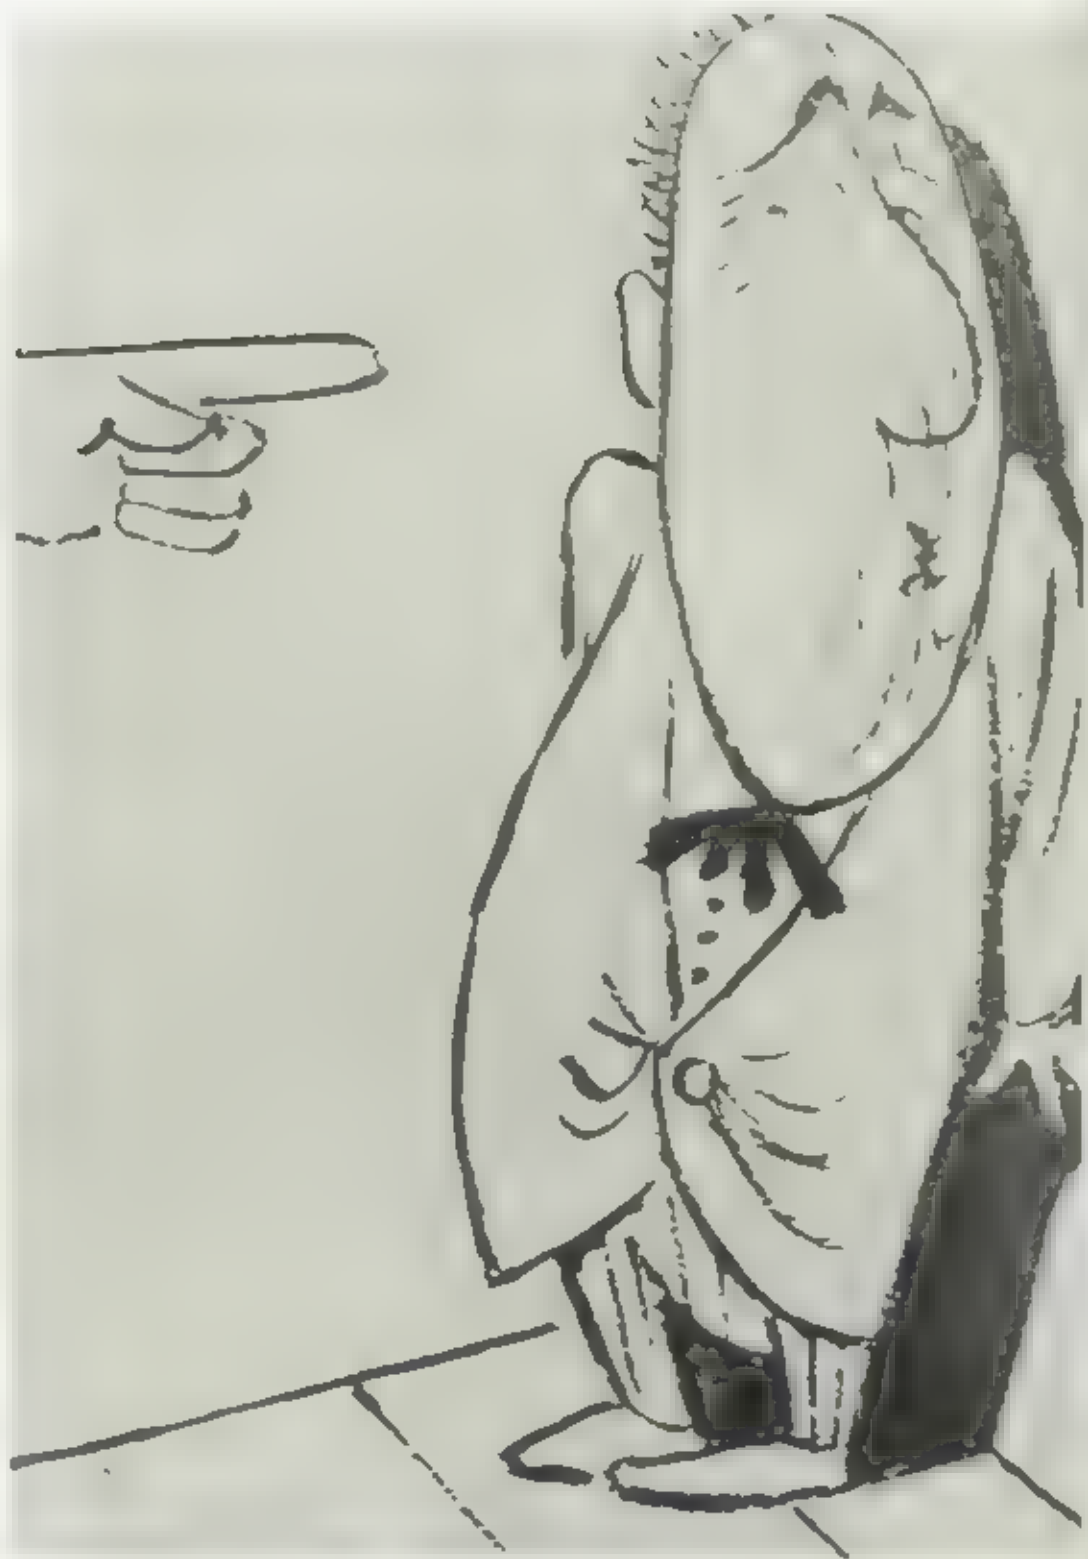

... we don't know where we fit in.

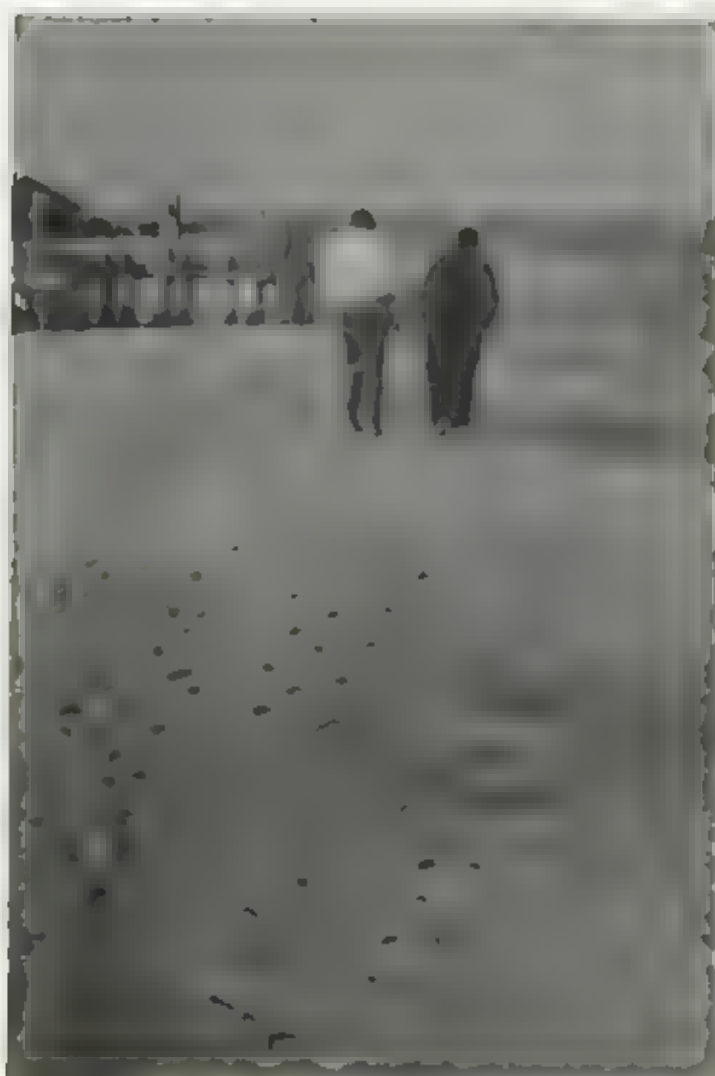

at times, we are at peace
with the world,

a minute later, we are crying
—all the world is against us.

We feel the need of Friendship,

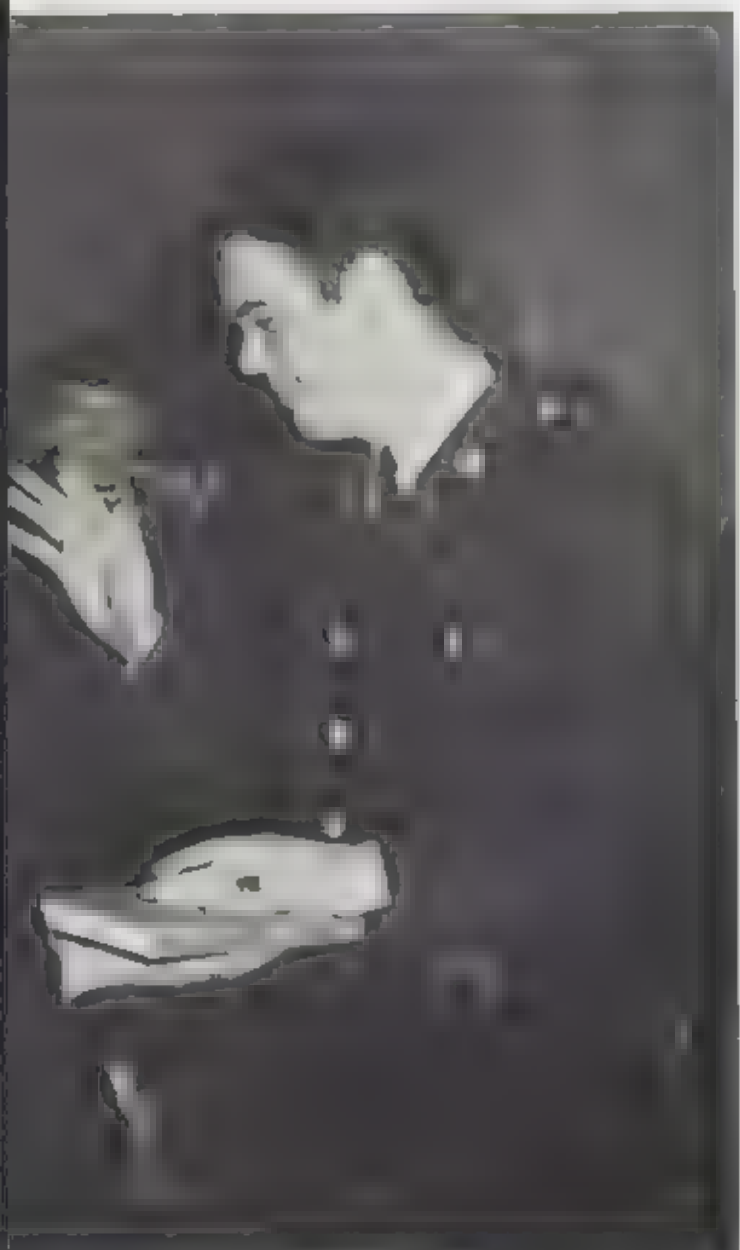

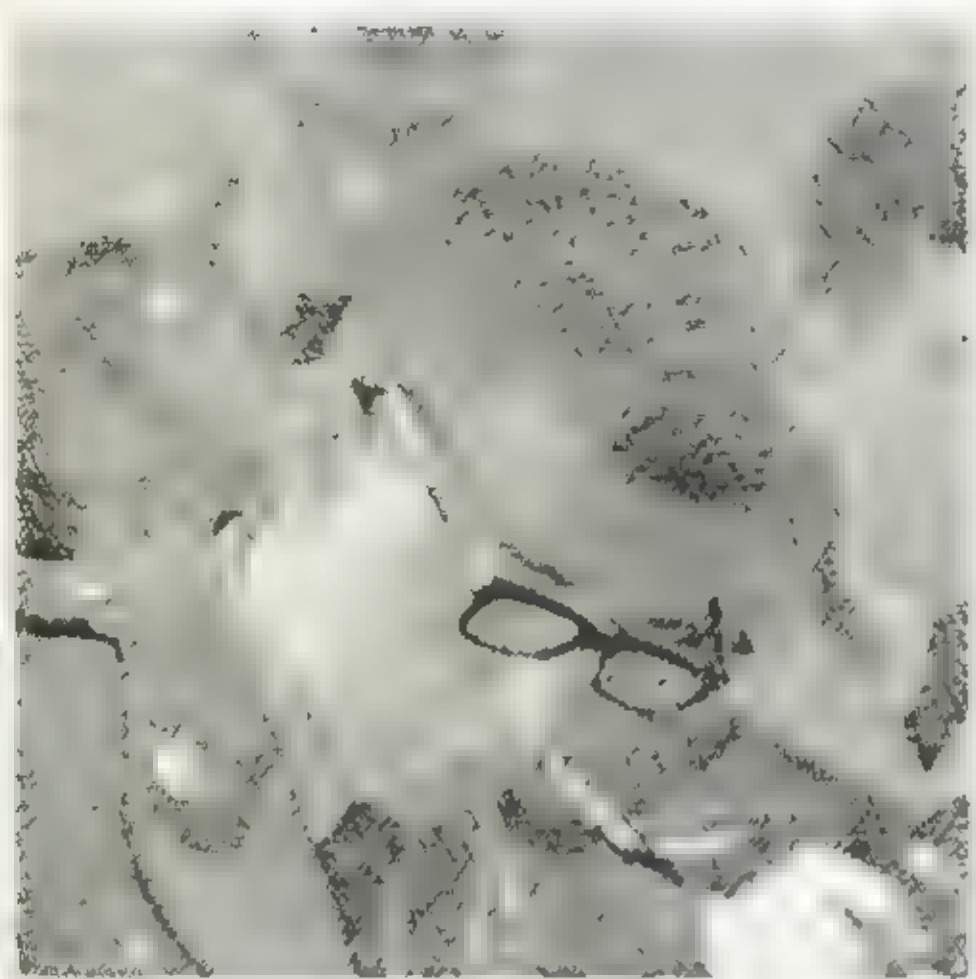

but we believe we stand alone.

We put on a mask of foolishness,

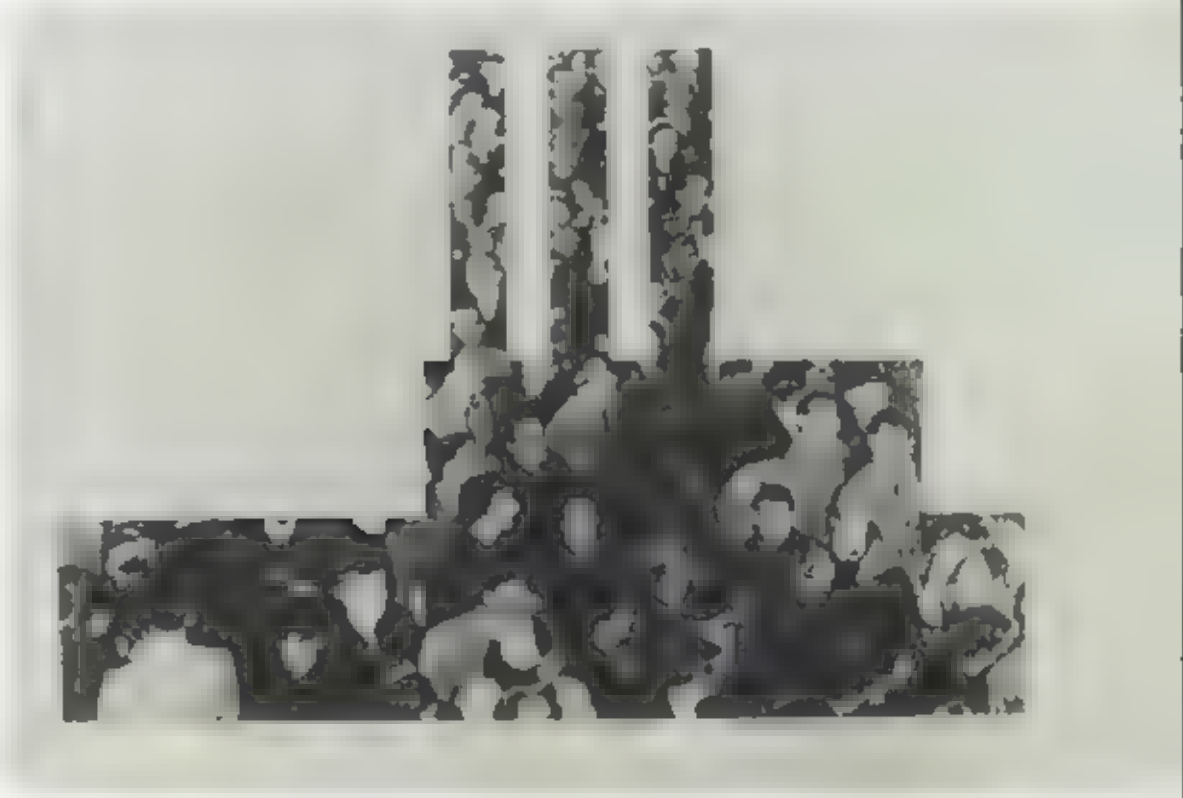

... to hide our torn, jagged minds.

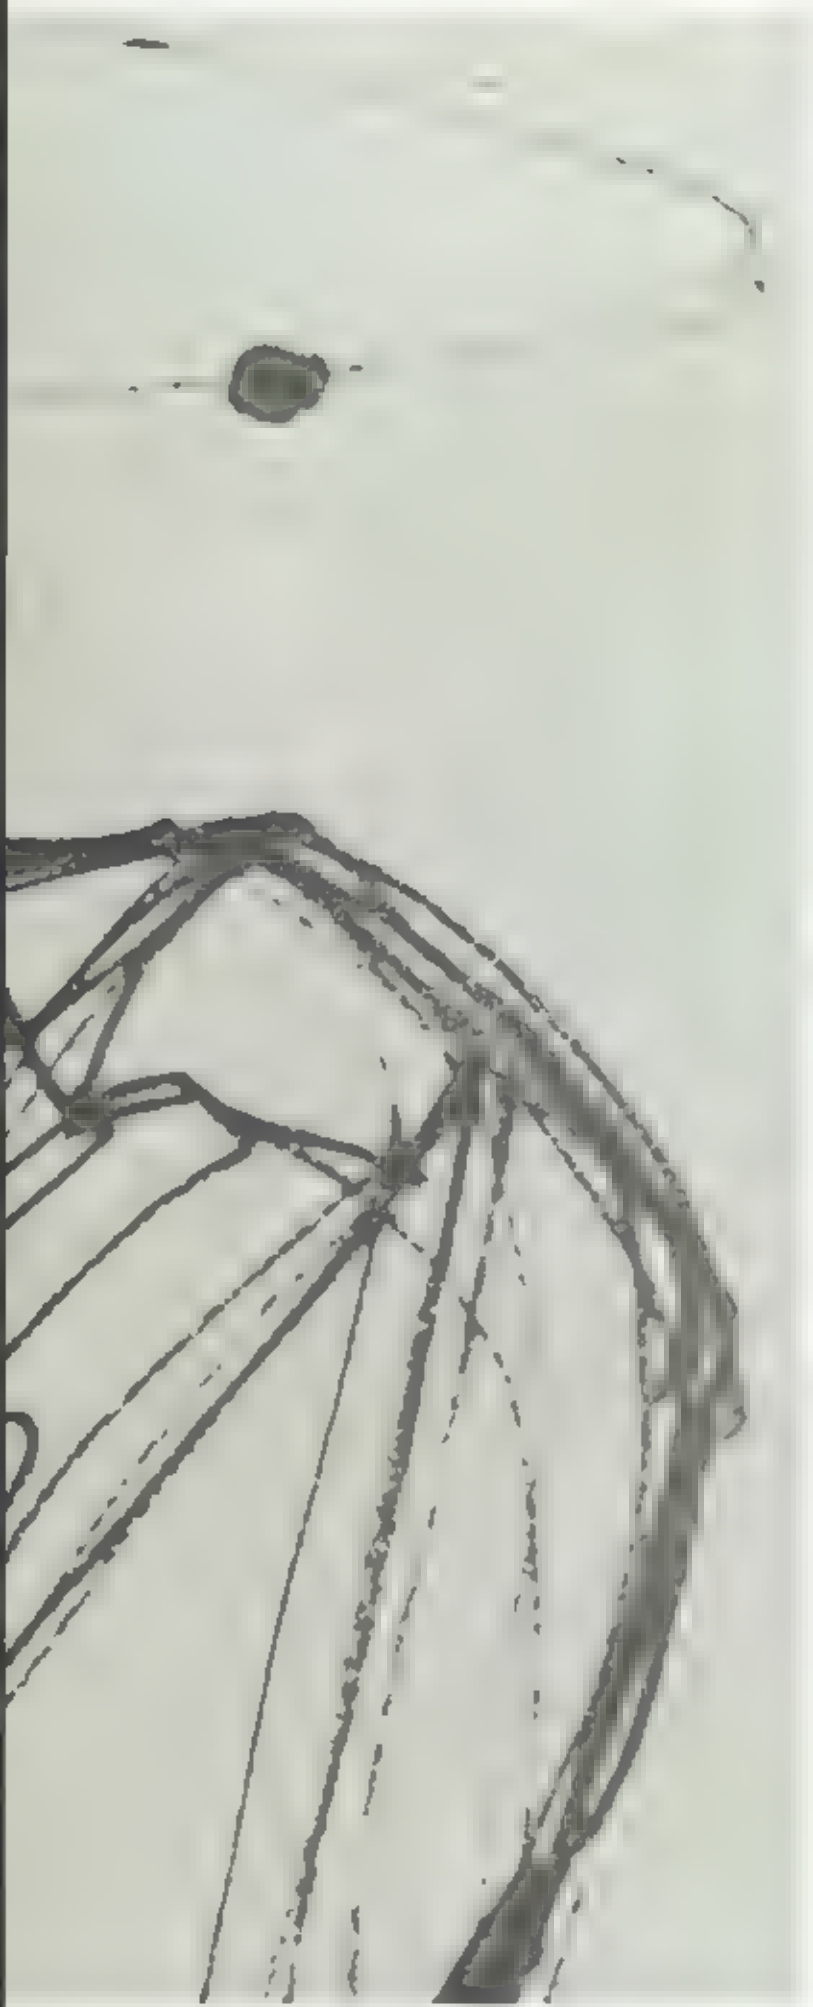

We know what the world
expects us to believe in,

... but we don't understand how or why.

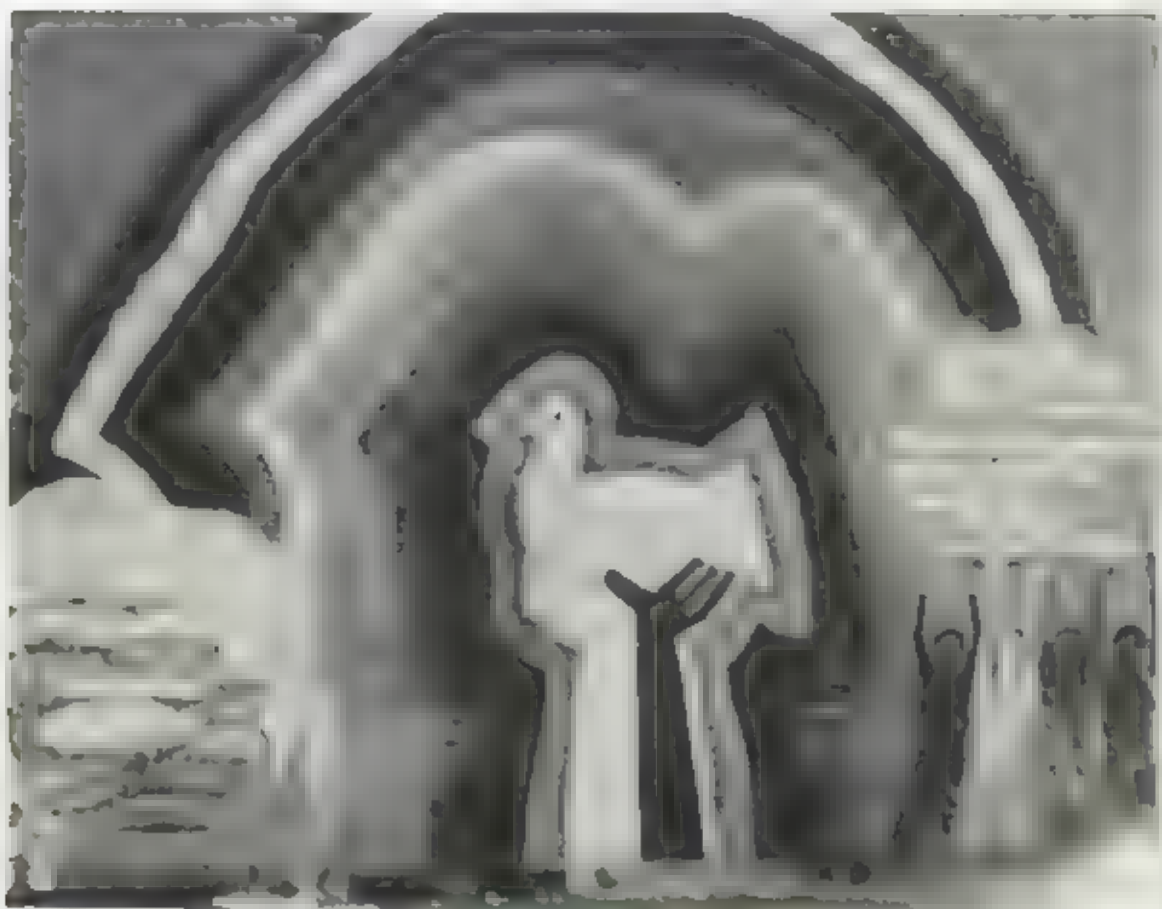

From childhood . . .

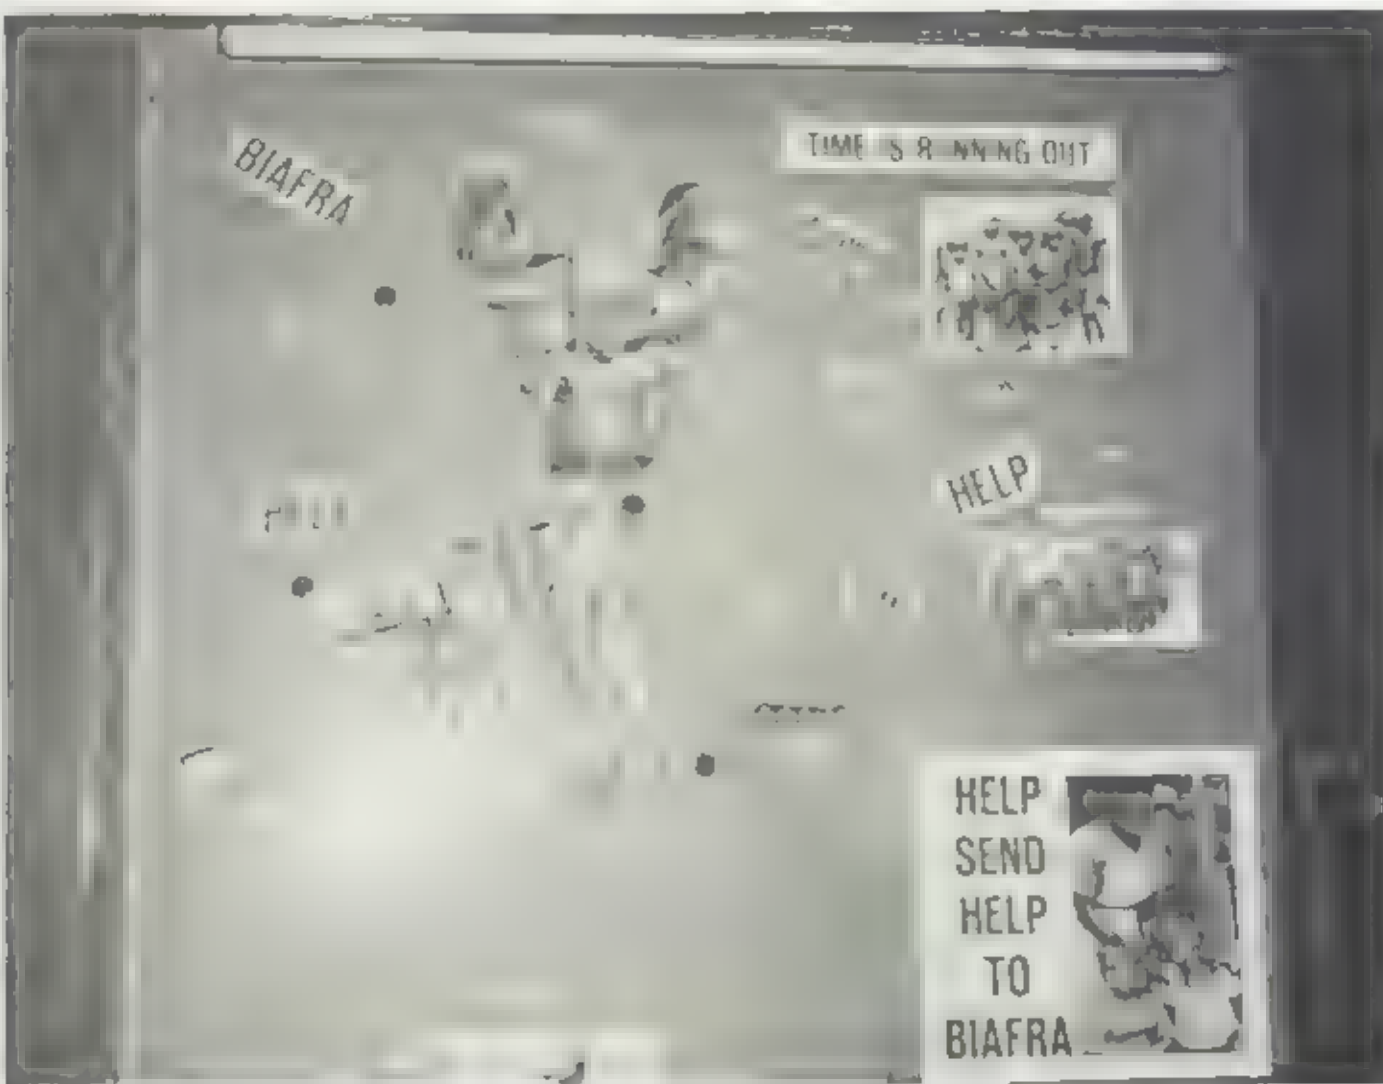

... we set our own goals.

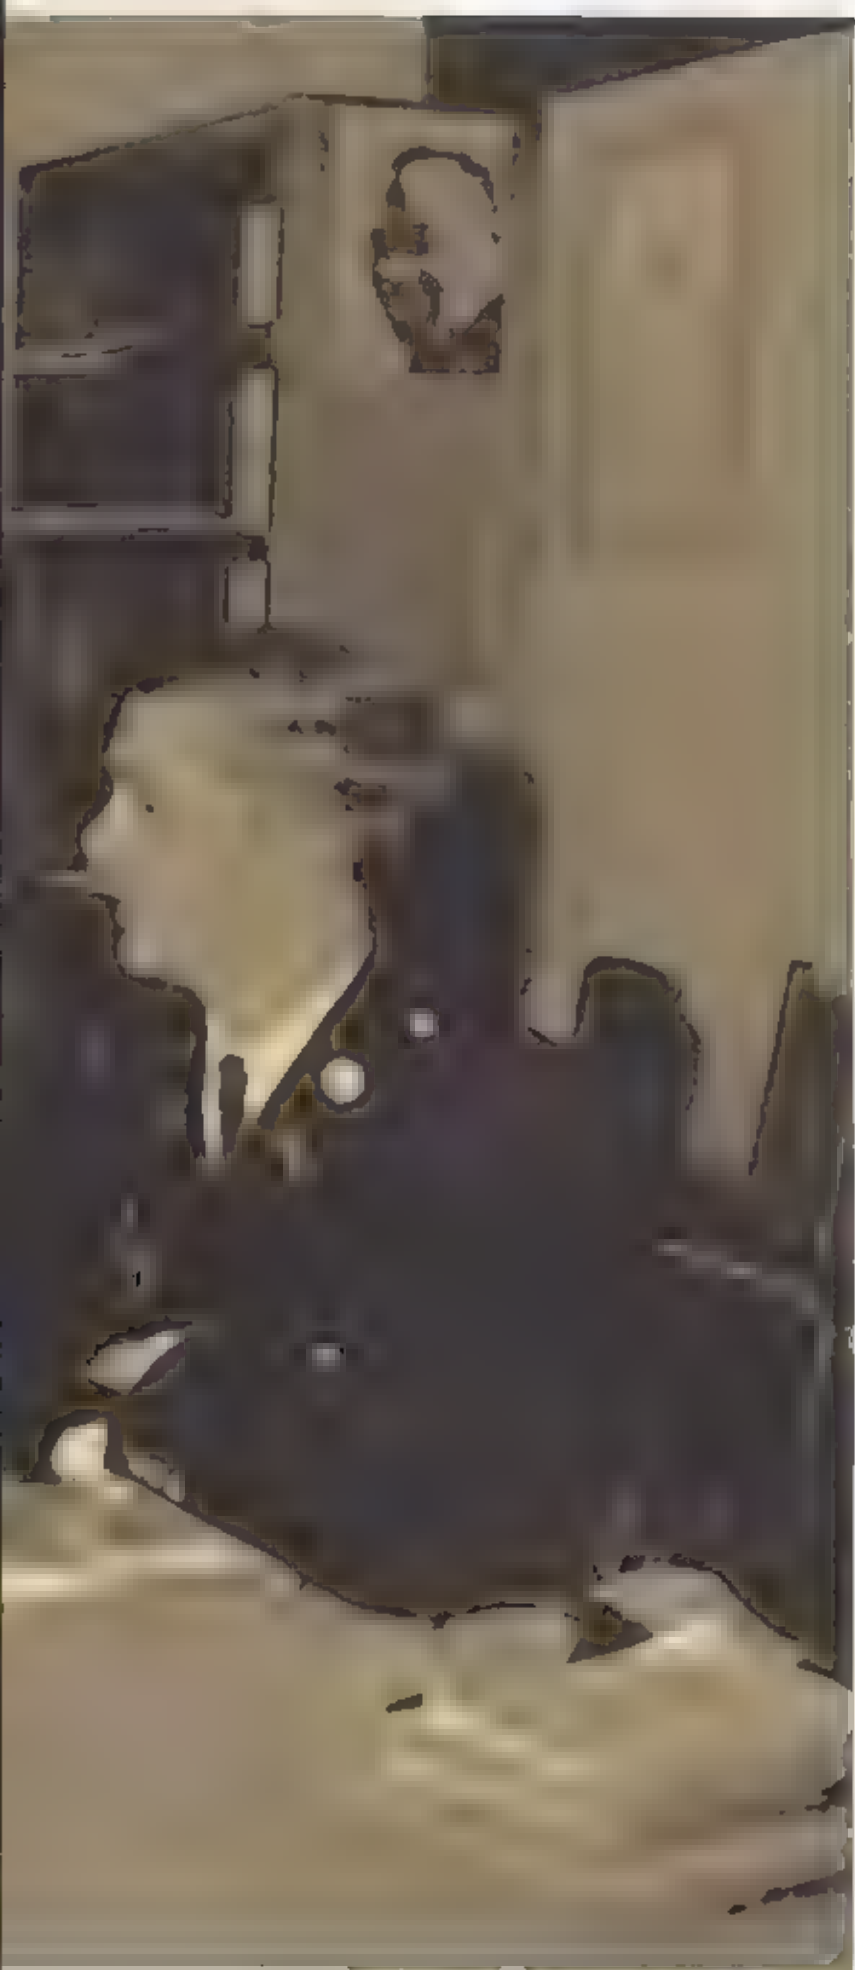

One feeling,
however, links us
all together—our hope to change
the world.

But first we must learn,

The New Officers Take Over

The beginning of the military year was marked on September 27, 1968 as the dark blue line of officers marched up the center aisle of the church to receive their commissions. At the head of the blue tide was Ward Neville, Colonel of the Xavier Regiment. The Colonel then proceeded to dedicate the regiment to the Blessed Virgin. Further into the ceremony Reverend Fr. Wood spoke to the assembled cadets. As the Mass of the Holy Spirit ended the year's officers marched out and the last notes of the Band faded into the air.

and not become indifferent but rather . . .

While we were vacationing . . .

they were practicing.

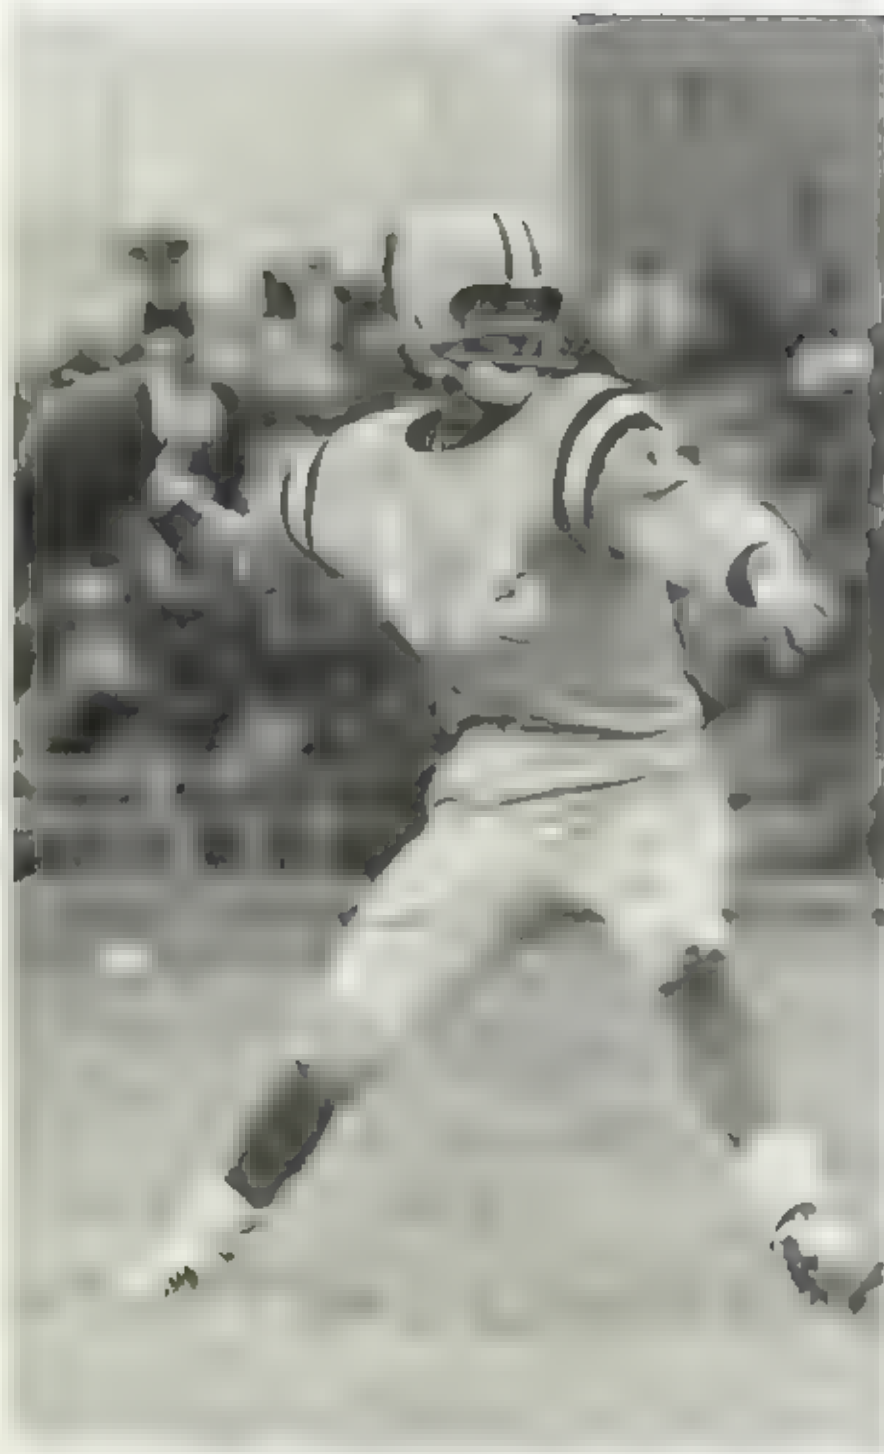

We rallied . . .

. . . with the Game Group to support . . .

... our men in football.

As far as the record books are concerned, 1968 was a very disappointing year for the Xavier football team. The won-lost statistics (2-5-1), do not accurately reflect the true quality of the team. However, even though they were apparently short-changed this year, coaches Paquin, Maher, Greaney and Burns did not appear to be totally bitter over the team's performances. The schedule this year included very strong teams from both New York and New Jersey, and although statistics do not record the atmosphere of the games, the team's fans can remember several fine battles against favored opposition, such as the 1 point loss to Farrell and the tie against St. Peter's, in which time ran out with Xavier owning the ball on St. Peter's 3 yd. line. The team was very strong in some areas. The offense was led by the brilliant backfield of Tom Clarke, Roger McTiernan, Tim Moffit and Charlie Ficken. Hidden in the offensive line were some other fine ballplayers, such as Bernie Cordts, who went both ways. Tom O'Hara and Rich O'Rorke. The defense seemed to shine the most behind the line, with its very capable staff of linebackers. During the season, some students felt that the football team considered itself separate from the rest of the student body. This was in a sense true, as the players tried to unite and foster the type of morale that was necessary for successful teamwork. Every game was regarded as a potential win, and anyone who saw action hit hard. The final game of the season, against Fordham, was to make up for the bitter disappointment and misleading record. The Xavier football team showed TV viewers and one-game fans the kind of football that they had been capable of displaying all season.

On Thanksgiving...

The offense was 100% complete, after several starters had been sidelined at various instances throughout the season. Charlie Ficken and Rudy Cecchi made return appearances, along with Bernie Cordts and Rich O'Rorke, who were never actually sidelined, but had been hampered by annoying and lingering injuries. The offense exploded on the third play of the game with a long pass to McTiernan, and was unstoppable for the rest of the day, turning the ball over only once. Moffit's calls made the Fordham defense dizzy, Ficken and McTiernan were elusive on the run and Clarke sent more than one Fordham player home with bruises on his bruises. The players who really deserve a lot of credit are the linemen Center Bernie Cordts, tackles Rich O'Rorke and Joe Girard, and the small, quick, determined guards Tom O'Hara and Frank Baratta had a field day against Fordham, after playing for most of the season against opposition which grossly out-weighted them.

... we feasted ...

The defense showed talent and aggressiveness, being especially strong behind the line with linebackers Gerry Nolan, Chuck Smith and Captain Bernie Cordts plugging up holes and blocking short passes. Ends Tom Horton and Lou Chavez, with the aid of Ed Tweedy, did a good job of punishing quarterbacks and containing the sweeps. The internal defensive linemen were Steve O'Rourke, Paul Romano and "Dude" Prevete, with Joe Girard stepping in for several plays. They produced a strong pass rush which enabled the secondary, consisting of Roger McTier-nan, Greg Westrack and Kevin Fitzgerald, to limit Fordham to very few completed passes. Perhaps the high point of the game for the defense was when they dug in on the 3 yard line and kept the ball out of their end-zone for 5 straight plays

The Hope of the Future.

Over hill over dale . . .

Except for a few glimmers of success, the cross-country team had a disappointing season. The team was however brightened by some individual efforts. Coach James Scott and Assistant Coach Febles had to chalk up new records for the 2½ mile course at Van Courtlandt Park. Tony Dasaro was clocked in a time of 13:37, a 14 second improvement, then a junior, Pat Connolly topped that with a 13:34.

The team placed fifth among record setting competition at Cobleskill, N.Y. Dasaro finished third, Connolly fourth, followed by Mike Monahan, Bob Bennett, Rich Spinatto, Jim Gildea, and John Schader.

The prospects for next year's harriers look bright with seven varsity men returning and Mr. Scott's white raincoat and stop watch as inspirations.

... and indoors.

Finding capable, talented and hard-working replacements for graduating seniors is often the supreme test of any coach. Although last year's quartet of senior speedsters was indeed worthy, Track Baron, Mr. James Scott found an extremely talented and experienced group of young trackmen waiting to perform this year. This pool of talent was led by such renowned seniors as "Mighty-Mike" Monahan, a 5' 6", 120 lb high-jumper who can easily clear his own height; Julius "Puma" Gonzalez in his third varsity season; Mike "Snapper" Tierney who could not decide between hurdling, high-jumping and the half-mile; and Captain Tony Dasaro who was clearly the best runner on the team. The indoor season was highlighted when the team, for the second straight year, dominated the Jesuit Relays. Xavier beat its closet rival, Regis, by thirty points and scored in every event. The squad entered the season with eyes fixed on both the finish line and record books coming first in both with ease.

Drill Masters

This year the X-Squad, under the command of Cadet Maj. Roman Lechicky, put on several impressive exhibitions of marching talent. They performed at the annual Spring Review of the regiment, and in all of the city's important parades, but their most important performance was at the Villanova Invitational Drill Meet, where they earned recognition as the finest high school drill team in the nation. At this meet, they placed first in Trick Drill in their division and second overall in the entire meet. A notable point is that their Trick Drill score was the highest of all divisions, and all other competition came solely from colleges and universities. With a number of experienced juniors and sophomores returning, they should do well again next year.

Our Musicmen

The Band, which marches in all parades in the city, also gives two concerts a year, one at Christmas time and the other one in the Spring. This year's Spring Concert was a very special one with guest soloist Carole Rhinehart performing with the band. Also, the band has started a practice of playing at assemblies and masses. An important branch of the band is the Game Group, which played at the varsity football and basketball games under the leadership of Mike Postiglione. This year's seniors were one of the main factors in the success of the band. Commander Paul Carini supervised all the lower divisions and John Sabalja took care of the NROTCBA. Other influential seniors were officers Holger Menedez, James Cumella, Steve George, James Lynch and Steve Hull.

During the past year the Color Guard has proudly borne the colors and represented the school in numerous parades and events. The unit was ably commanded by Cadet Lt. Bob DaRin, with the aid of two talented seniors, Jim Garibaldi and Tony Matthews, who have added experience and morale to the guard. With thorough dedication, perseverance, and industrious practice, they have led the unit through a "spiffy" year. Other members are: Sam DeLuca, Guy DiGiacomo, Ricky Ennis, Ed Larkin, Carl Schneider, Bill Whitely, Miguel Garcia, and Bill Safranek.

Best Foot Forward

... for the big day.

Some say we started off on the wrong foot—it was cold and we had to be there long before the parade started but the X Squad, Color Guard and Band had a chance to prove their weeks of practice. Platoon leaders can remember certain individuals asking permission to leave early. But once we were on our way things quieted down. We marched along and companies soon began a contest, each trying to outdo the other in counting cadence. For some reason, watching people watch us made the day more enjoyable

Aside From Drill . . .

Nov. 15 started early. The young man would be feeling quite well, perhaps being driven by a chauffeur to his date's house. He would ring the bell and then it would start—screams would emit from inside, her mother would open the door shouting, "Oh, how handsome he looks!," and "If I were ten years younger . . ." The father would be busying himself snapping pictures, which would blind the couple while her little brother tugged at his sabre or marched around with the hat covering half his face. But with a few more minor delays they would finally be off to the ball.

It was a big night, especially for the Queen Miss Holly Gannon and her escort or 'K n' as he prefers to be called, Chris Raleigh. Equally excited were the princesses and their escorts. At 10:00 P.M. the seniors and their dates were introduced to the family and friends of Xavier with all singing the school song. Everyone was laughing and singing despite the jokes of the announcer. It was a perfect beginning to a long night which usually ended in falling asleep in the car just as the sun was making its entrance.

Parliamentary Procedure

For the past several years, the Student Council was composed of a very small group of concerned students whose presence as a group was unfelt, unseen, unheard, and often "un"-effective. This year the Student Council decided to emerge from the underground, and this democratic approach has given it greater student support, thusly increasing its effectiveness as a representation of the student body. This year's Student Council, the first one to have a chairman elected by popular vote, tried to stress communication as well as representation. The council began during the summer with the meetings of the Continuity Committee which gave origin to a jacket for the summer uniforms. It also decided that important issues should be referred back to each class before being voted on in the council. The council itself began the year slowly, trying to initiate its new members. After a short time, however, it came out with a student newspaper with the purpose of increasing communication. We wish next year's council the greatest success. We would like to thank the senior officers of this year's council, especially: Neil Smith, chairman; Jay Devine, secretary and co-editor of the council newspaper; George Hillman, chairman of the social committee; Brian Dinsmore, head of the Boat Ride Committee; and Steve O'Rourke, in charge of assemblies and rewriting the constitution.

Those Concerned

The Sodality's activities began with making the first dance of the year a great success. From the proceeds gathered the groups were able to start many projects moving toward a very apostolically-minded program for the year.

The Seniors and Juniors became very involved in retreats as well as a regular meeting program with the National Conference of Christians and Jews. During the retreats and meetings the group came to know one another and others they met more and more as the year progressed. The Sophomore and Freshman groups became involved on the level of the Missionary and Biafran Programs when the school was prevailed upon to give during Lent. They also held the vigil service and Mass to open the Lenten Season of self-giving for others. The Sophomores were particularly involved with weekly tutoring program at the Xavier Grammar School.

Mission Night turned out to be a great success through the labors of all units as well as the Youth Day. This program was done through the careful direction of the moderators.

Whatever you do

The primary purpose of the Xavier Social Apostolate is to provide an opportunity for students at Xavier to express their concern for their fellow men by assisting underprivileged grammar school pupils. These students come from various Catholic grammar schools in Manhattan and Brooklyn. Tutoring is conducted for one hour each Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. The program is student-run and supervised by nine Senior coordinators—Herb Abbott, Tom Goldrick, Russ Kaye, Pete Lamparello, Mike McHugh, Frank Moran, Ward Neville, Al Torres, and Ambrose Vallone and is moderated by Mr. Hartnett, S.J. Apart from a few flying desks, the year has been relatively successful.

to the least of my brothers...

It is a difficult task to change the world,
but involvement is a good start.

HAMLET

The coming of winter ushered in the Xavier Dramatic Guild's production of Hamlet. Under the direction of Mr. Joseph Rafter the crew ably provided the scheming Kings, revengeful sons, despairing ladies, blustering kings, social climbers, ghosts, and gravediggers as required in the script. The last time Xavier produced Hamlet, John Courtney Murray, S.J. played the title role. This time it was Angelo Lucco's turn. Lucco, displaying the enthusiasm he has shown in past productions, gave the audience a full portrait of the tragic prince: laughing and warm one minute, cold and violent the next. Assisting Lucco in Shakespeare's dramatic acrobatics were Bob Murphy, an apt time co-star of Lucco, as a thoroughly entertaining Polonius; Jay Devine, the loyal Horatio; Niel Smith, a swashbuckling Laertes; and Jack Foley showing his dramatic talent as the guilt-ridden Claudius. Opening quickly, the play gradually gained momentum as the characterizations blended and produced a dramatic finale leaving a number of corpses lying symmetrically around the stage designed by Fr. Robert Lynch, S.J. Truly the play was the thing.

They left us speechless.

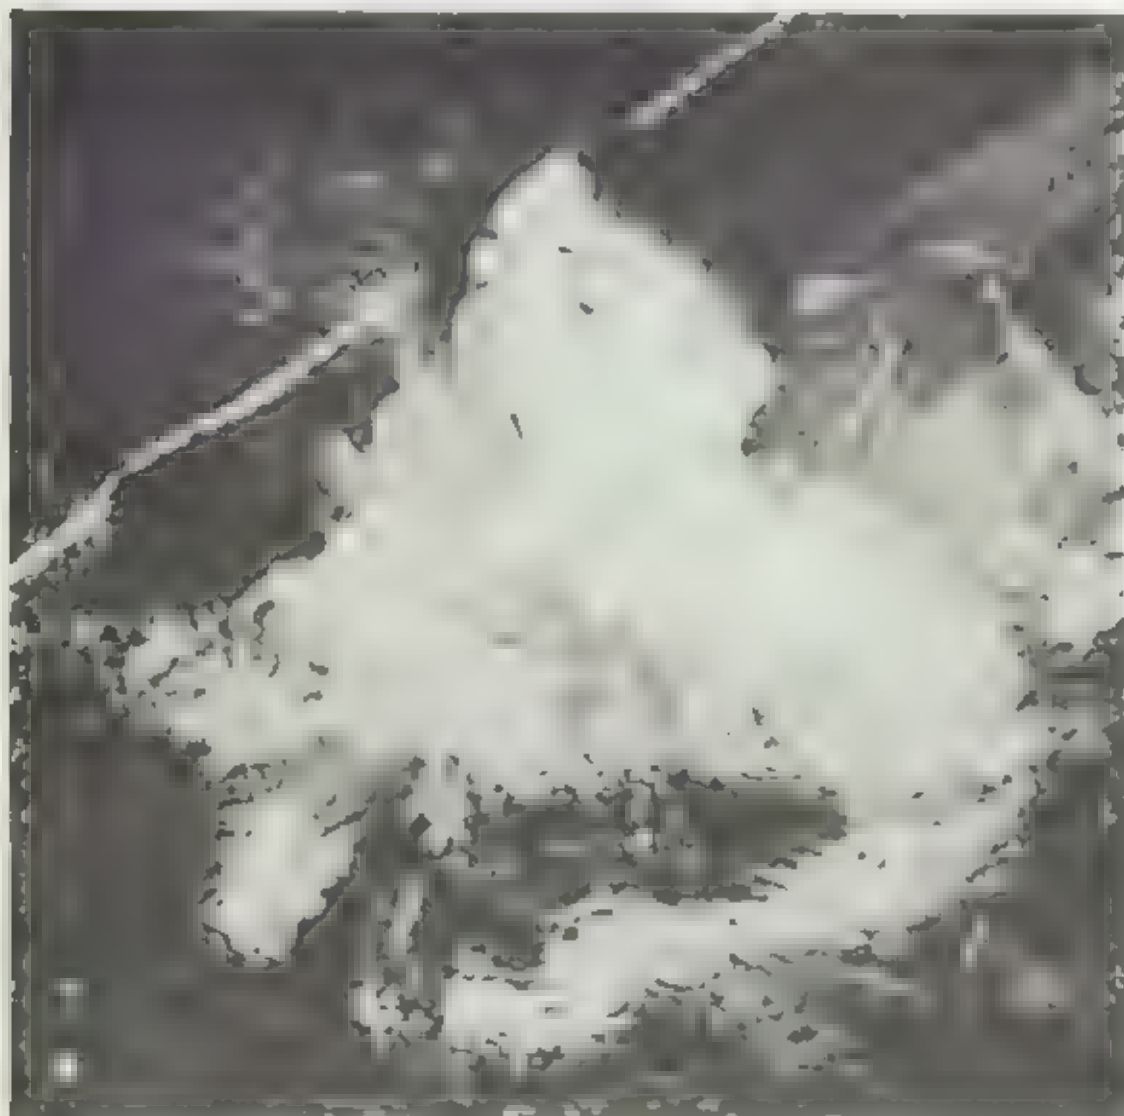

This year's squad of Bob Cummins, Mike Sheehan, Bob Vogel and Jack Foley, led by Mr. Russell Sloun S.J., had a great reputation to live up to; one which they themselves helped to establish. From their successes at Henrick Hudson to their most intense battles at St. Peter's, the team always upheld their reputation and fought their hardest. As seen from their victories over arch-rivals Archbishop Stepinac, Georgetown and Henrick Hudson and even their one-point loss to the National Champions, the varsity can look back on their final year with a sense of pride. A lack of strong speakers in the area of Speech forced the seniors to decide between one more term of Debate or establishing one of the potentially strongest Speech Teams in the State. Thus, Debate retired early.

Speech never faltered for Xavier this year and a strong, experienced team will go to the Grand Tournament. Led by nationally ranked Jack Foley, the "oratoreadors" are backed by one of the most promising groups of underclassmen Xavier has ever seen: Jim McGovern, the winner at St. Peter's, Jim Scala, Dennis Kelly and Tom Ribaudo. Rounded out by seniors extempers Mike Sheehan, Bob Cummins, Steve O'Rourke and original speaker Ray O'Connor, Xavier can be proud of their work and their accomplishments.

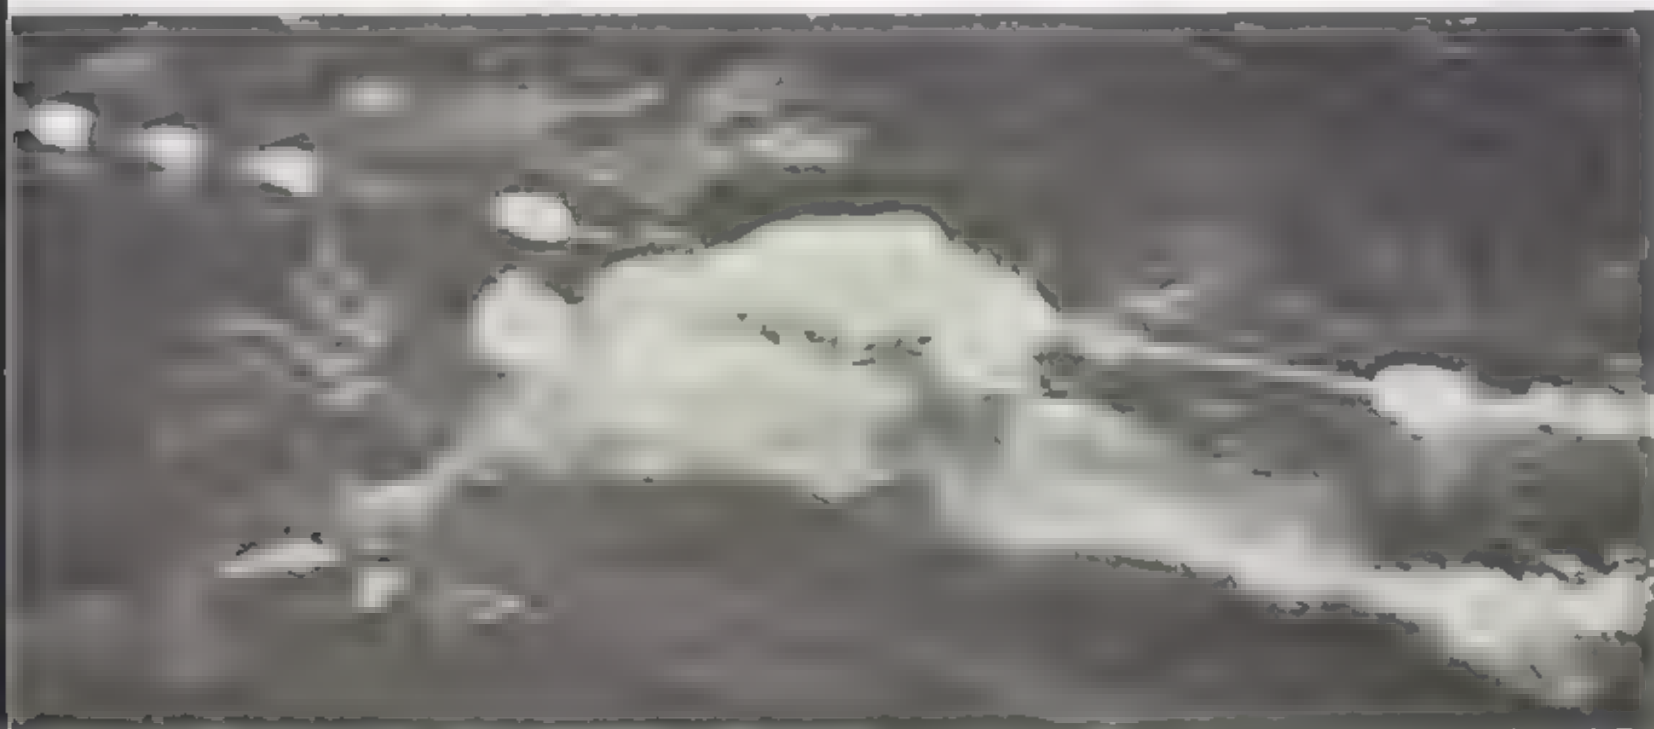

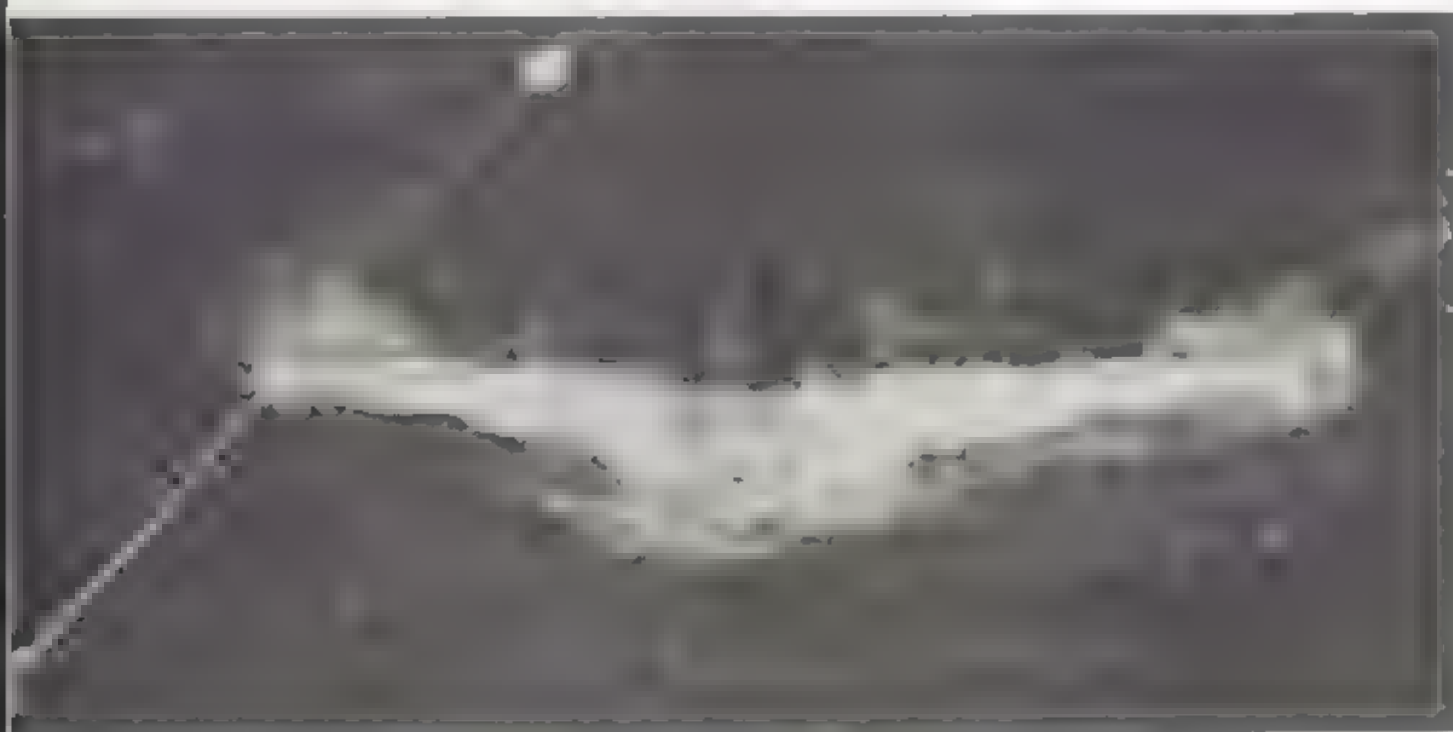

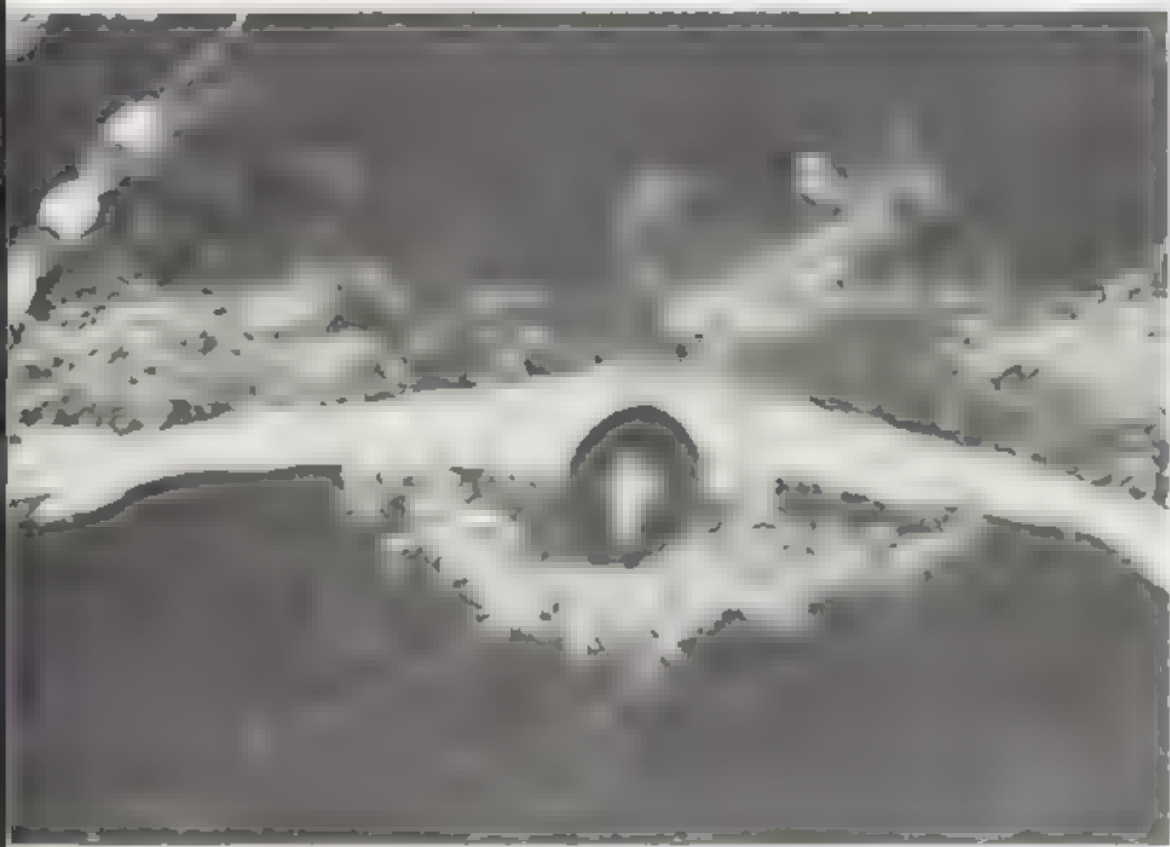

The Sea Lions

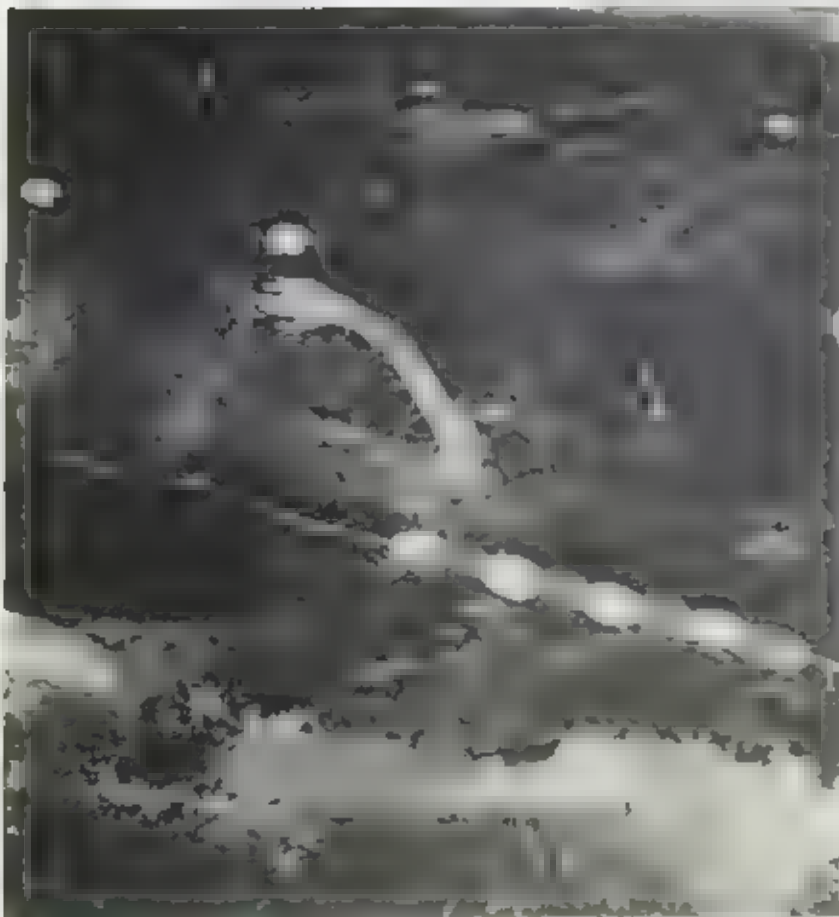

Like the tainted oyster that by surprise yields a pearl, last year's mediocre swimming team left the foundation for the team which this year was one of the best teams, if not the best team, in the New York City area. Novice coach, Mr. Joseph White, has proven that he is either a genius or a miracle worker by helping the individuals on the team improve their performances greatly, and at the same time he has managed to keep the team morale high in the midst of strenuous daily workouts. However, not all the credit can justly be given to Mr. White and Mr. Geary Ahern, S. J., the moderator. The swimmers themselves have shown thorough dedication and a fierce pride in the team. Captain Bill Quigley, last year's most consistent point gainer, led this year's team, along with Co-Captain Rich Desmond, a reputable diver. Other noteworthy aquamen were senior Greg Daly, who has made a remarkable comeback over last year, juniors John Baron, Ed Coyne and sophomore Drew Raneri.

A completely rearranged team playing in its first season under the direction of the new coach, Mr. Thomas McCorry, the 1968-69 representation of Xavier Basketball once again failed to cope with the superior competition of the C.H.S.A.A.'s Division II. In November, as the team was rounding into shape and Pete Gyves and Ken Egan were assuming their reigns as co-captains, guarded optimism hovered over camp. With the first four starters from last year's quintet lost to graduation and only four lettermen returning, a young but spirited team prepared for what was to be a rugged season. The first game with Regis was to tell the fate of the squad. A bitter fourteen point loss was suffered at the hands of the Raiders at Madison Square Garden, and it was downhill from there . . . until the final game of the season at Regis. After a close first half, the hungry Kaydets opened up a sixteen point lead in the third quarter and won going away 63-49. With the return of the entire starting five, which includes Frank Fove, Don O'Brien, Frank McNamara, Dennis Coyle, and either Tom Rome or Pete Hart, one can be assured of a more successful season next year.

Our Athletes at the Waldorf

Bill Quigley, recipient of the Monnahan Trophy

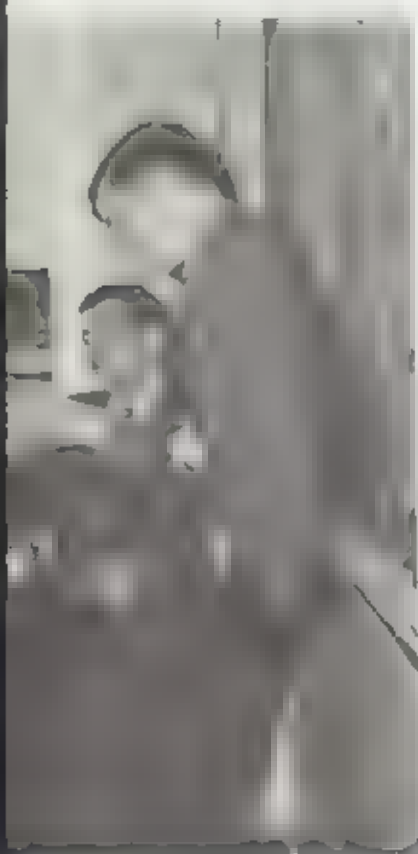

The Block X Dinner is an affair which is held each year at the Waldorf Astoria and attended by the Xavier athletes with their families. The dinner was a complete success this year. It brought in much needed funds for the extra-curricular activities, and all present at the dinner enjoyed good food and the dry wit of Mr. Thomas Cahill, Head Football Coach at West Point.

It cannot be said that this year's Review, under Mr. Martin Feeney, S.J., did not generate reaction. Accused of being biased in the midst of a presidential election, letters and irate opinions found the well-hidden Review office. Innovating Editor Billi calmly weathered the storm. Jack was assisted by Sports Editors Mike Tierney and Frank Moran, always trying to find a different way to say a team lost; John Flood, providing remarkable insights on the problems in the cafeteria; Associate Editor Bob Murphy, contributing creative ideas all of which were not printed; and the tried and true news staff

Our Marksmen

This year's Xavier Rifle Team, led by John Brennan, has had a winning season in the tradition that is its own. Quiet determination and constant practice have made the Rifle Team one of Xavier's best. One of the boasts of the team this year is that it does not have to depend on a few individuals to take the honors. The team is made up of good men from all years. John Brennan, Tony Matthews, Jim Ryan, Dick Cardinali and Tom Feeks in Senior year; Tom Gassert, Jim Horris, Guy DiGiacomo, Tony Aguirre and Derk Offer of Junior year; and Bill Safranek, Mitch Sparrow and Gene Laurich in Sophomore year. Under the able coaching of M Sgt. Richard Dower, U S A.(Ret), and the careful planning of Fr. Edden, S.J., this year's team is good and next year's will be even better

Babes in Arms

The Supply Corps is a group of Xavier students whose main duties are concerned with providing the equipment needed by the regimental organizations of the school. They also provide the student body with the various tid-bits of military ornamentation that are needed to conform with the standardized mode of dress. Under the moderation of S.F.C. Elton McGowan, the men of the Supply Corps distribute such necessary items as arm patches, blue-stars, white gloves, and extra uniforms. They also store, repair and secure drill rifles and guidon poles for the X-Squad and Color Guard. These men are seldom thought of by their school fellows, but they are the backbone of military activity.

Math Club

The Math Club, this year, was a small but enthusiastic group. They met on Friday afternoons to delve into the mysteries of Boolean Algebra, Topology, and many other forms of mathematical madness.

During lighter moments they matched wits over riddles, puzzles and mathematical games. The regular members have done so many different kinds of puzzles that it is now almost impossible to find one they can not solve.

They are presently working on the possibility of solving the classic Konigsberg Bridges problem considering the entire system to be one long Moebius Strip, then cutting the whole thing in half without dividing it in two, and winding up in what is essentially a Klein Bottle. But the impossible always takes a little longer.

Hidden In The Archives

Many of the academically oriented students have been using the library effectively for term papers and personal discoveries. Often enough they have neglected to remember the many services performed by Miss Salvati's dutiful staff. Every staff member can locate any one of the library's books upon request, and they often go out of their way to help fellow students researching material in the indecipherable Readers' Guide.

Treanor's Trading Post

This year the student-store has expanded to deal with merchandise other than simply bluebooks and pencils. Items ranging from overcoats to Charlie Brown posters are now available, and the credit system has been put into operation. Bill Miller and the rest of the staff have given Mr. Treanor capable assistance in dispensing the necessary odds and ends to the Xavier student body.

The Chessmen

Although we are sure that everyone knows of the success of this year's chess team, we will review its record. During the year it was defeated only once by St. Peter's Prep. Among the vanquished were Fordham, Bishop Ford, and St. John's. The faculty also fell under these, almost computerized brains. Among the warriors are such men as Bruce Strzelczyk (team captain), Angelo DePalma, Casey Rogers, John Kesich, Andy Baran, Rich Pavlik, and Michael Fair

Candid Cameramen

The Photo Staff is a small group of men who produce a number of professional-quality prints to be used by the school's publications. This year's photogs, under the supervision of Mr. Curtis, S.J., have once again made the staff a success. Herb Abbott '69 and Bill Orchard '70 have been the ace photographers. They have been greatly aided by Ralph Jozefowicz, Victor Maragliano, and Jim Kulis. With these men leading the way, the newer members are being trained to carry on the fine tradition of the staff

Friday Night at the Movies

One of the advantages of attending a school in New York is the abundance of entertainment offered. Many of the Xavier students do not use these facilities to the fullest. The MULTI-MEDIA CLUB was established to bring some of the finest pictures ever made to the Xavier screen, and awaken the student body to a greater understanding of the cultures. Under the supervision of Fr. R. Dengler, S.J. and moderator Mr. D. Hands, S.J. the program began. Stars of the finest quality, such as Rod Steiger, Sidney Portier, Kirk Douglas and Paul Scofield gave some of their best performances. The titles included "The Pawnbroker," "Nights of Caberia," "Raisin in the Sun," "Gospel According to St. Matthew," "La Strada" and "David and Lisa." Seeing these films was not enough to understand them fully. Girls from various local schools were invited, and each presentation was followed by a discussion and a social. The aim of the program was to present the very best for full enjoyment and understanding.

Time for a change

We feel that nothing need be said about this activity, since its success depends entirely upon our readers' reaction to it. We would like to say, however, that the 1969 Evening Parade was not put together to serve as a plastic memento of Xavier High School, but rather was written in an attempt to express the lasting effects of approaching maturity in this present-day environment.

A quick run-down of the season: In September, Editor Steve Murtha, returning for his third season on the Staff, went over his material with the aid of Mr. J. Dondero, S.J. The Staff appeared to have great potential on the keyboards, with Mike Sundman and Nick Galeota, the Italian powerhouse, showing great speed. Editor Murtha handled the high post, and the 1-2 combination of John Valentino and Tom Hoarty laid out every page. The starting staff was rounded out by the up-and-coming John Phelan, all-around utility-man Dean Stetz, and sophomore Pat Dowd, who shows strong desire but a lack of experience. The manager's duties were fulfilled by Colin Cuskley.

Now on a more humorous note . . .

Here we are—Xavier's Finest

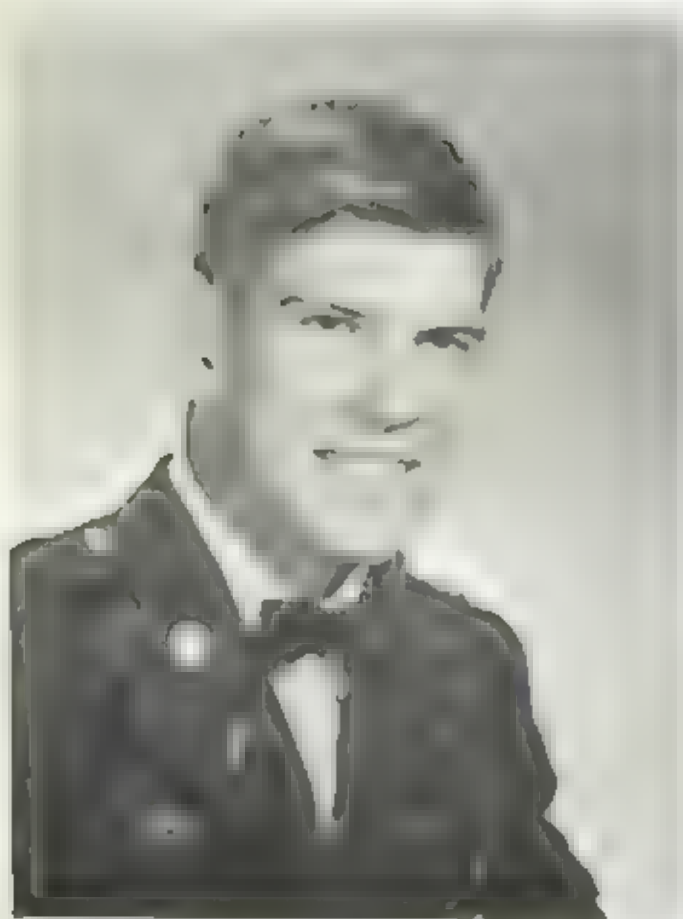

The following pages contain descriptions of the individuals graduating from Xavier in the Class of 1969. Aside from the personal portraits, there appear paragraphs describing each senior. These paragraphs are sometimes humorous, but often quite revealing, because they depict each man's personality as it is seen through the eyes of his best friend

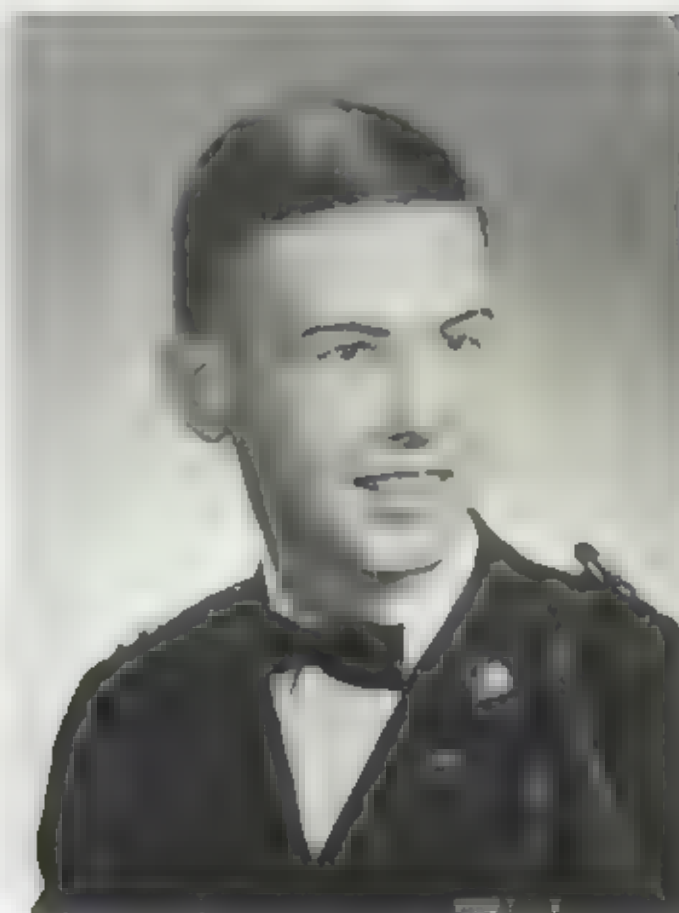

COL. Edward R. Neville

Ward's quick smile and mild manner has helped make him the best choice in this graduating class to lead the regiment as its commanding officer. One can find him mostly in and around the Prefect's Office working and talking or at track and cross country practice. Georgetown is Ward's ambition in order to pursue medicine. He leaves Xavier with many friends and a good knowledge of himself.

LTC. Joseph E. Boury

Joe believes in total involvement. Always a leader, top ten academically, multiple winner athletically, Executive Officer of the Regiment, involved in student government—he has never allowed power or recognition go to his head. A fine writer, soft spoken, yet strong in convictions, Joe hopes for a Yale education and a career in politics.

LTC. John J. Brennan

J. B. is a man of two sides; The joker who livens up class with his caustic wit and the leader who can be counted on when there is work to be done. He is most often seen running late to the Prefect's office or studiously pursuing his "academic endeavors" in the Rifle Range. J. B. hopes to study law at Georgetown.

CAPT. Herbert R. Abbott

Herb is the scholarly type that leaves nothing unanswered. He likes skunk and getting 100's on Math tests. He'd be a great guy if only he could take half way decent pictures

SFC. Frank E. Accardi

The master of ceremonies at the "sons of Italy" lunch table, one can always depend on him for a smart remark! Actually, Frank is a great guy with a great sense of humor. He plans to study medicine and one day deliver children Good Luck, Frank, You'll need it

2LT. Leonard P. Alfano

Lenny, the bald eagle, plans to go to Western Connecticut State, where he will be an English Major. He has a great love for the opposite sex. Besides that he loves younger kids and intends to teach in elementary school (or be the father of a large tribe)

SGT. Arthur R. Allen

Ralph, as he is called by practically everyone in the school, is a type of guy who does his own thing. A man of a lot of school spirit, he is one of the better guys. We can rest assured that he will succeed in whatever he does

MSG. Thomas F. Allen

Tom is usually found in the Supply Room. He is known for his brilliance in Chemistry and Math., and for his never failing military look

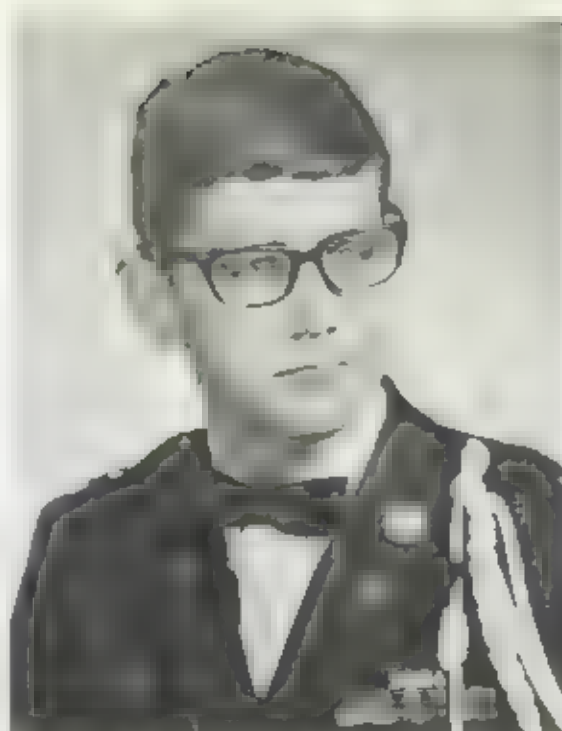

SFC. Michael Amarosa

Mike, affectionately known to his better friends as "Big Mike," hopes to make it big in a pre-med course at a near-by college. He can be seen at anytime down by the Village and Carmine Street where he is known as the "Italian Lover."

1LT. Richard J. Anastasi

Rich's preverance on the cross-country team, letter-winning performance on the track team and superior academic record are well known to all of us. He is nicknamed after a small city-dwelling rodent. He has earned the friendship of most of our year. Rich plans to go to Brown for mathematics

1LT. Anthony C. Antonacci

Tanoose, the hard driving leader of the Junior X, plans to go to Georgetown and study Pre-Med. As anyone on the squad can tell you, they'd rather have him knifing anyone but them Tallyho!

2LT. Edward J. Aronne

Ed is the anonymous ass't. adj. and is frequently seen writing out the regimental orders on the 7th Ave. subway, hiding in the corner seat. He commands his own private navy of model boats, which he races regularly for fun

SGT. John P. Asaro

Oz has certainly made his mark on Xavier and its faculty. His quick wit earned him nothing but friends. Although he survived only one term as class beadle, I feel that he has gained back enough confidence to be successful in his chosen field of Engineering at Stevens Tech

SFC. Anthony M. Assenza

Usually anti-establishment, Tony conceded to have his biography printed in the yearbook. Besides being anti-establishment he enjoys scuba-diving and manages to help Biafra on the side

1LT. Francis P. Baratta

"La bella" Barratta is one of Xavier's leading Italian nationalists. Frank was described in the school paper as "small, quick and determined" on the football field. His intellectual capabilities also match this description. Despite this, Frank has earned a scholarship to Stevens Institute where he plans to become an engineer

1LT. Alberto C. Basulto

Al Basulto. Better known as "Bas", has found an outlet for his many talents as XO of the Supply Corp. Even though this rigorous task takes up much of his day, he still finds time to indulge in various activities around the school. Al hopes to become an engineer.

2LT. Timothy F. Bednarz

Tim, the living spirit of the old bugle corps, can always be seen bopping down the hallways. Looking for personal achievement, Tim is an officer of the Regimental Staff, and takes an active part in upholding the traditional standards of Xavier. Tim is working diligently on a future at Annapolis.

PVT. Jeremy C. Bean

Jerry, who is one of the hardest workers on the swimming team, plans to attend Marquette. Also after having been cut from the swimming team, he swam on his own until he made it again. This kind of devotion deserves some recognition and it shows he will succeed in the future.

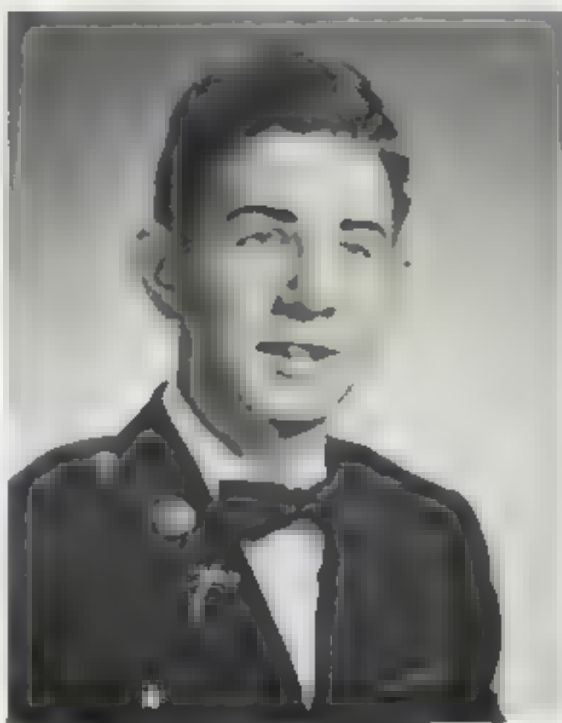

ITC. Gregory C. Belli

"After referring to my copious notes and discovering Oedipus to be the legitimate king . . ." Fun time at the shore. Manipulated Big Brother. "All good parts are underlined." Drum and Bugle Corps forever. "No, it is not traditional to pin Mutt and Jeff cartoons on the Third Battalion bulletin board."

MSG. John R. Benson

Jack is the quiet type, the kind you have to look out for later on. He likes the New York Giants and The Beatles. His resolution is that he will grow tall enough to see over the steering wheel.

MSG. Stephen J. Bertocchi

If you ask anyone in the school who Steve is, the answer you will probably get is, "Oh! You must mean Bear." Steve hopes to study at West Point and eventually go into the foreign service for the government. A hard worker in what ever he does, he is always ready to brighten up one's spirits.

CPL. John J. Besold

Need we say anything further . . . or should we?

ILT. John E. Billi

Jack plans to study medicine at Georgetown. If he isn't dodging Mr Feeney in Larkin Hall, he is usually seen working in the Newspaper office. Jack is known for not doing things half-way; he just doesn't do them.

CPL. Angelo J. Brancato

Ang, the "intellectual", has been interested in welfare for his fellow man. His political philosophy from that of his contemporaries; he is considered an individualist. I am sure that his concern for people and political involvement will continue in Queen's College.

PFC. Gary T. Burke

"Bear" was known for his smiling face and dynamic participation in intramurals and cross-country. During the past year, Gary has developed into one of the most humorous critics of the day-to-day existing at Xavier. After college you can visit the fun-loving Bear in his "Fun City" penthouse with a mohair rug and color television.

CPL. Gerard E. Byrne

Gerry is vocal as we know but also is sincere in expressing his belief in the establishment and the military. He intends to broaden his understanding and pursue this career in college.

21.1. Dennis M. Campbell

Dennis can be found working as an active Sodalist. He has helped many through the tutoring program. He wishes to attend Rutgers University to take up the study of Latin, and wishes to become a teacher. His personality is the main reason for his always saying hello to whomever he meets in the halls.

PFC. William F. Campbell

Bill is a great guy, and really talented. Seeing him in school one would think him to be your average, clean cut, American boy. This is Bill's subtle approach. He usually swings at parties, on chandeliers, neckties, etc., but quite often he is just there increasing his qualifications for A.A. The stage awaits thee!

CPL. William G. Camperlino

Bill plans to attend the college of his choice upon graduation. There, he will study the ups and downs of business and will eventually open up a business of his own. He is high on knowledge and is always ahead of everybody else.

ILT. Richard D. Cardinali

Card" last year, was one of the sharp mathematical minds in a class that really didn't have too many. This year, he can be found on the gym balcony giving out his physics homework for fifty cents per question. A Quality bowler, Dick hopes to win the first bowling scholarship ever given out by a college.

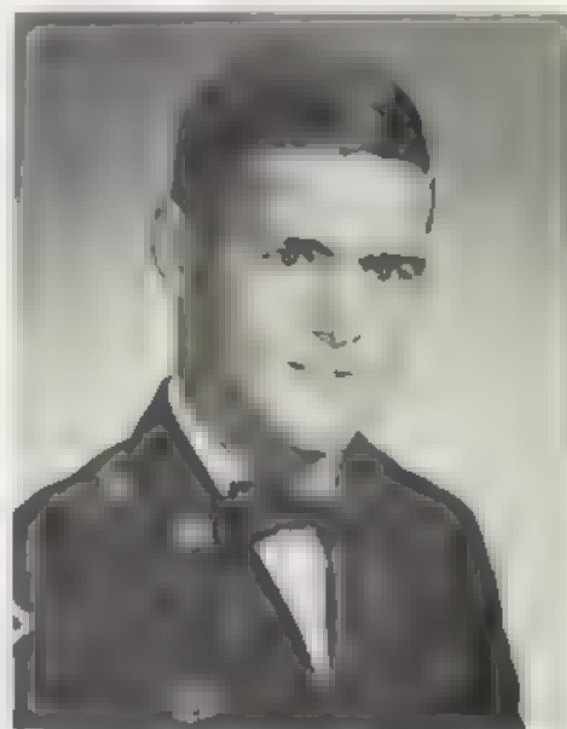

CAPT. Frank J. Careri

Frank wants to be a lawyer, a defense attorney for the mentally insane? F Lee Bailey, Beware!!!

CAPT. Paul R. Carini

No one is involved with Xavier more deeply than Paul, in his sub-terranean Band room. You can usually find him there. In fact, during school, you can find him anywhere, except class.

SFC. Vincent J. Carroll

An excellent comic actor, find student, trivia king of XHS, and member of Fr. Harriess' New Jersey invasion force, Vin's sincerity, loyalty, and total warmth of personality, has earned him the friendship of most of our year. Looking towards a career in law or politics, he hopes to attend Princeton.

SGT. Gary J. Caruso

Gary knows what he's doing, why, and what he plans to have come of it. If you've never met him, you're missing something; a person, and experience, a minute of talk, an hour of fun. Gary is without a doubt Nutley's finest

PFC. Vincent A. Cavallero

Vinny is known by most of the kids for his quick-witted and sarcastic sense of humor. He acts on impulse which is best seen in his interaction with girls. He intends to continue his studies, but he does not know why

PFC. Rudolph A. Cecchi

Rudy can be seen on the weekends roaming the beaches of Rockaway with his rosy cheeks and red nose. He leaves girls spellbound with his little puns of wisdom. His blazing speed and quick moves makes him an offensive threat. He plans to study Pre-Med at St. John's University

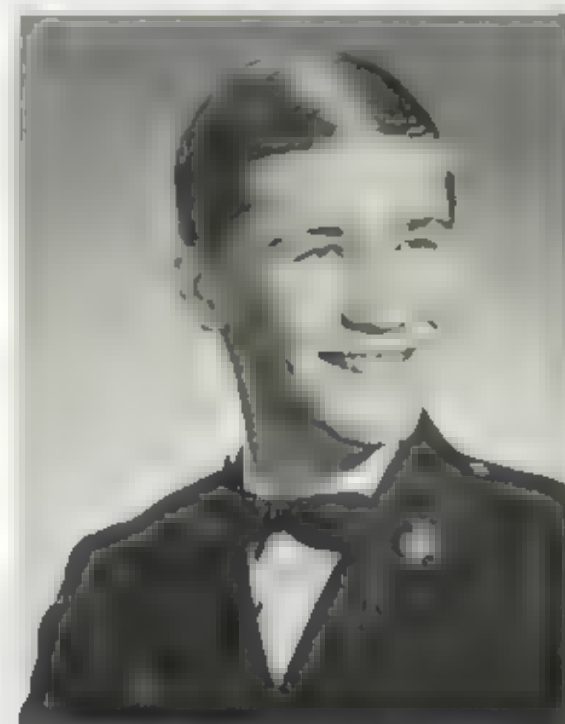

SSG. Luis R. Chavez

Between classes you can always hear him down the other end of the hall, but when classes start he quiets down, so much so that you may just be able to hear him snoring. In spite of all this Lou is really a good guy and has a brilliant past before him as well as a promising future behind him

2LT. Joseph B. Chrapek

Joe, also known as Dr. Chrapek, is the Mr. John Scott of senior year. He looks like a real intellectual, but he is one of the class cut-ups. He is a big fan of bowling and would like to break the school record for high game

CPL. William E. Clancy

Bill, occasionally called Irish, plans to major in law at college. Some feel he should major in agriculture, as he always enjoyed the true fruits of nature such as tobacco leaves, hops, rye, and grapes

PVT. Vincent M. Claps

Vinny was a determined swimmer until he realized his life held more for him than water. He found his true ambition in Food Marketing. His "Fordian Philosophy" has the only meaning in his life—every Friday night he can be found practicing it. "Albino" looks to graduation, when all his trials, tribulation, and jug—end

PVT. Thomas E. Clarke

Tom has played football for four years. His future plans are to go to college and play football and take liberal arts

SFC. William J. Clockel

Bill is never seen around the school. Reason? He is hiding down in the Supply Room. His career here can best be summed up by the quote: "He came, he saw, he didn't conquer."

21.T. Barry E. Conboy

Barry, otherwise known as Bazz, intends to go to Seton Hall University where he will major in History and then go on to a teaching career. He enjoys the better things in life; lunch recess, the Senior Room, and dances. Rumor has it that he will take ROTC in college . . . He must have something against hair!

MSG. Bernhard F. Cordts

Bernie Cordts, the six foot two hundred pound bruiser who captained the Football Team this year is regarded throughout the school as one of the most respected men around. But how could you talk about Bernie and not mention Cathy. Bernie's headed for Boston College and if Cathy had her way, she'd be too. The best of luck from a friend and admirer

SFC. Nicholas L. Correra

Nick enjoyed Sgt. Smith while at Xavier, and wants to go to Brooklyn College after he graduates. Working in his father's store after school occupied most of his spare time and while at Xavier he was usually found in the Senior Room

2LT. James C. Cumella

Jimmy can be found afternoons in the band room, for he is the supply officer. Jim wants to attend Fordham and study History and go on to Fordham Law School. Jimmy hopes to win a varsity letter for his attendance at football games in the Game Group. He plays the saxophone.

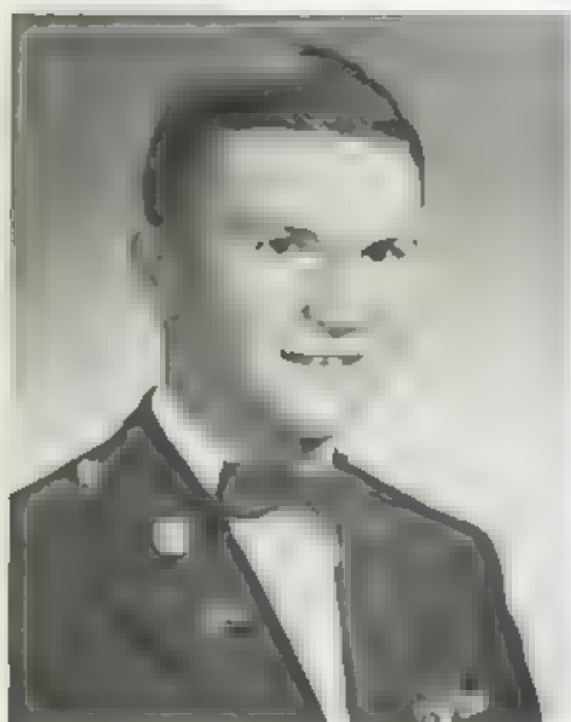

LTC. Robert C. Cummins

Bob has been one of Xavier's leading students for the past four years both in academics and extra-curriculars. Always one to help where he is needed, Bob has made many friends who won't forget him too quickly. Bob is looking towards Yale, and a career in politics. Would you believe "Governor Cummins"?

1LT. Robert L. Curreri

Though Bob is one of Xavier's leading students, he can never leave any intelligent conversation untouched, but feels he must interject some irrelevant criticism. Despite this, however, Bob has managed to obtain a scholarship to Stevens Tech. where he hopes to study engineering. Good luck Bob.

PFC. Colin B. Cuskley

Crinkley is the terror of the ski slopes. On weekends he can be found in Vermont or Canada (where he might be found if he gets snowed in by the draft). School is also one of his main interests; it is topped only by sking, girls, dances, sleeping, hop-scotch, and tiddlee-winks.

SFC. Robert I. D'Aleo

Bob was one of the best hockey players in the school. His play helped his class to the Junior Class title. He has a sharp wit and his biting comments have brightened up many a dull class. He wishes to major in History, since it's the only subject he does well in.

PVT. Gregory J. Daly

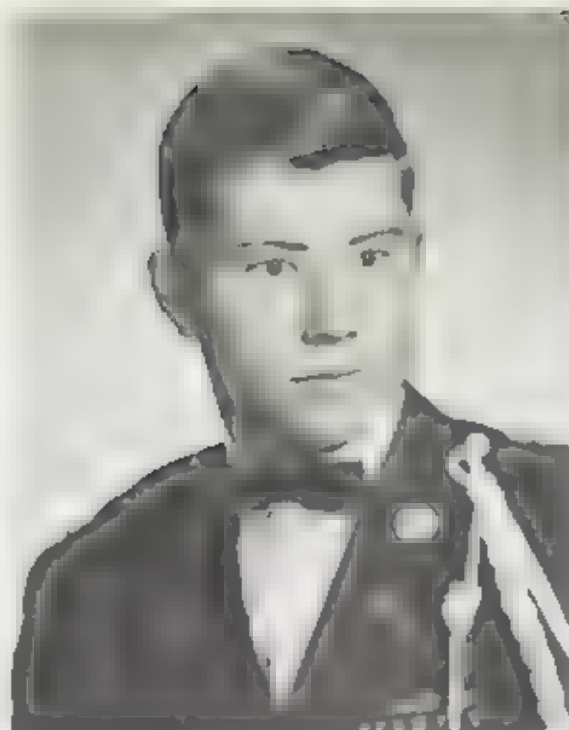

Greg, a resident of Bayside Queens, can usually be found by a swimming pool with a number of girls. He is a good member of the "men" of Xavier and will always be remembered for his quick reactions. He hopes to attend a small, friendly college far away from home.

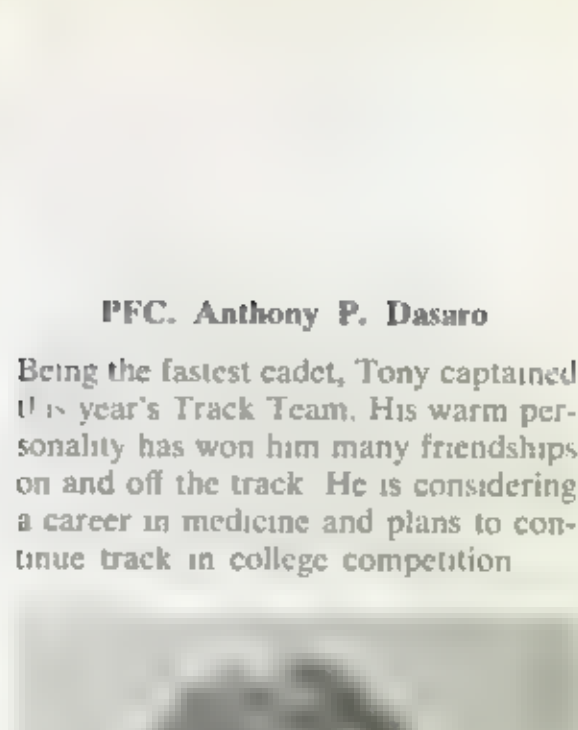

CPL. John A. D'Anna

John's vivacious witticisms were often tempered with Classical allusions while his "curly" hair, sardonic countenance and intellectually stimulating sense of humor made our stay here much easier.

2LT. Robert T. DaRin

Bob plans to study Liberal Arts at college. He is one of the most active students in the school, especially when girls are involved. We'll call you Bob, when we need a good Gym teacher Good Luck!

PFC. Anthony P. Dasaro

Being the fastest cadet, Tony captained this year's Track Team. His warm personality has won him many friendships on and off the track. He is considering a career in medicine and plans to continue track in college competition.

2LT. Nicholas C. Del Bueno

Nick, who will try anything once, hopes to study engineering at the University of Illinois or Liberal Arts at St. Michael's. In his own words, he is ready for anything but prepared for nothing. Mr. Cummings is often heard telling him, "Del Bueno, keep your comments to yourself!"

1LT. John A. DeSanctis

John likes fast cars and fast girls. When it comes to dances he is always there. When it comes to athletics, he's well rounded and should make any college proud of him.

CAPT. Daniel E. de la Torre

"de la" has been known to sing on trains at 1:30 in the morning after dances, or, when in his more depressed moods, to sleep. He has what many don't have, school spirit. He hopes to go to B.C. and then will sing his way to med school.

PFC. Richard W. Desmond

Rich, or "tricky," will probably invade the campus of Fordham next year. He is striving to identify with his brother Jerry, by showing his constant attendance at the "Gay Dome." Rich has been known for his tremendous athletic prowess demonstrated as co-captain of the swimming team and his jumping through car windows.

CAPT. Joseph E. Devine

Jay's interested in studying sociology at Holy Cross. As a supporting reactor, he is the master of driving and parking in New York. Never has Jay underestimated his willpower, but often he and his friend Stu bend toward flippancy. Epilogue: Be prudent without being prudish.

SFC. Dante A. DiDomenico

Dan, sometimes called Didi by his friends, is planning to go to Villanova University and wishes to major in biology. When he is not breaking ankles or fingers, he is a loyal student of the art of self-destruction, karate.

2LT. Thomas J. DiMaria

Tom wishes to pursue a career in medicine. Tom, known in intellectual circles as Chem Gem?, is well liked by all. He has performed well in his studies at Xavier. Being from Brooklyn, it is easy to see why he is such a well-rounded guy. Lots of luck, Tom!

MSG. Brian J. Dinsmore

During his four years at Xavier, Brian has learned to overcome his basically shy nature. Although a little unsteady on his feet, Brian has shown himself to be a fine basketball player. The broad smile of this resident of Forest Hills has become easily recognized at all basketball games and dances.

PVT. Thomas M. Doyle

Tom, known to the intellectual set at Xavier as "Phiz Wiz," plans to attend Fordham. Tom, who treks in from Stuyvesant Town, can be spotted in the halls very easily because of his hundred-dollar smile, which seems to laugh at anything. Although he does not rank very high on military standards, he's tops with all his buddies.

2LT. Philip J. Drago

The Knick's best fan is known as Phil Drago. Phil appears serious in class, but his friends know him to be light-hearted and friendly. He would like to grow a foot and play basketball, but since that isn't likely, he thinks he'll enter politics after school.

SSG. Kevin C. Dwyer

Between trips to the "Fillmore East" and Sam Goodies, Kevin has been secretly planning to study Pre-med at Sanford University. In the meantime, you'll find him at the Political Science Club or discussing music around the school.

SFC. James P. Driscoll

A surfer by summer, Jim, or Boar as he is most widely known, hopes eventually to be a History teacher. "Shades of Mr. Mannon." A Ranger fan to the end, Boar is most likely to be found in the Senior Room figuring out how many more days till the next holiday.

PVT. Charles W. Edwards

Charlie, otherwise known as "sweet-water," or the "birth-certificate-kid," hopes to take up History at Holy Cross. Known throughout the school as a natural comedian, you might see him searching for the day's Physics, filling Jay Devine in on their "set-ups," or muttering something. A former basketball manager and truly a great guy.

SFC. William C. Droge

Bill hopes to take a Pre-Med course at Cornell. He was always known to be a controversial figure in school, especially in Russian class, as is shown by one of Fr. Harreiss's striking phrases: "You are a nice guy, no, but this means war."

2LT. Kenneth A. Egan

Ken, the co-captain of this year's basketball team is a fun loving guy. His fine sense of humor has cheered up a dismal basketball team. Nicknamed the "Gunner," because of his prolific scoring, "Egs" plans to keep scoring at St. Francis College in Brooklyn.

SGT. Joseph G. England

Next September, Joe will drive his "wheels of fire" on the unsuspecting and peaceful Fordham campus. With his skis strapped to his back, he will institute a ski program to keep his face permanently out of proportion. Xavier will miss his flashy clothes and leadership.

1LT. Thomas D. Fedele

Tom, who plans to follow a career of law at Fordham University, has worked diligently at Xavier for four years. Tom inhabits Brooklyn and participates in many sports there, especially man's favorite sport. The best of luck to you, Tom.

SFC. John V. Fabiani

"Doc" has been known for four years by his irreverent and irrelevant treatment of the faculty. No one, teacher or student, has been able to escape Doc's needle in class. Though annoying, his questions have never harmed anyone, and have often done a great deal to brighten up dull classes.

1LT. Thomas Feeks

"Boy Wonder" goes for peaches and soft blue lights. Comes home from a hard day at school to a man-sized helping of milk and cookies. Spends a good deal of his time in the Village. Hopes to continue his studies at Annapolis.

PFC. Edward J. Fay

Eddie's sense of humor and consideration for others has earned him the friendship of almost every student. Despite outward appearance, Eddie can really be a serious guy and he plans to go to college at the Air Force Academy.

2LT. Thomas F. Fenton

When he's not walking off garage roofs, "Clark Kent," (alias "Super Calm"), works on our stage. "Our light show is a broken strobe light and a Mickey Mouse nightlite. Well, you know. Some people say he doesn't say anything, but "Julie said I'm phlegmatic."

SFC. Charles J. Ficken

Charles has been a stalwart performer on the football field for four years. A small, quick, and determined scatback, Charles was a co-winner of the JV trophy at the Block X Dinner in 1967. Charlie is still undecided on the college but it is rumored that many colleges are after him.

CAPT. Anthony C. Fiorenza

Tony, like his twin, has a reputation for being argumentative. Whether arguing with Mr. Mannion or one of the school's ardent leftists, he manages to pour out a torrent of words which leave the listener both confused and unconvinced. Tony plans to put his talents to work at Georgetown's School of Foreign Service.

SFC. Leonard R. Fiorenza

Len, renowned for his mild-mannered personality, will always be remembered for his English techniques in 1D and for his X-Squad antics with "Quack" LaQuaglia.

2LT. John J. Flood

John, otherwise known as school critic at large, spends most of his time working on the school newspaper. In September he will head for Georgetown where he will study law. His main aspiration is to rise to the presidency by 1988. (Flood in '88?)

SSG. John W. Foley

Xavier's man about town. Jack will always be remembered for his Rolls Royce and Champagne Party. An avid weekend commuter and one of the best men in the Speaker's Guild, he wants to be a lawyer. From his performance at Xavier we don't think he'll have any trouble passing the bar exam.

1LT. Thomas J. Forlenza

Tom has clearly shown his ability in academic areas. Besides continually doing honor's work, he has furthered his studies outside of Xavier both in the sciences and music, and he is the founder of the French Club. I am sure Tom will do well in whatever area he chooses.

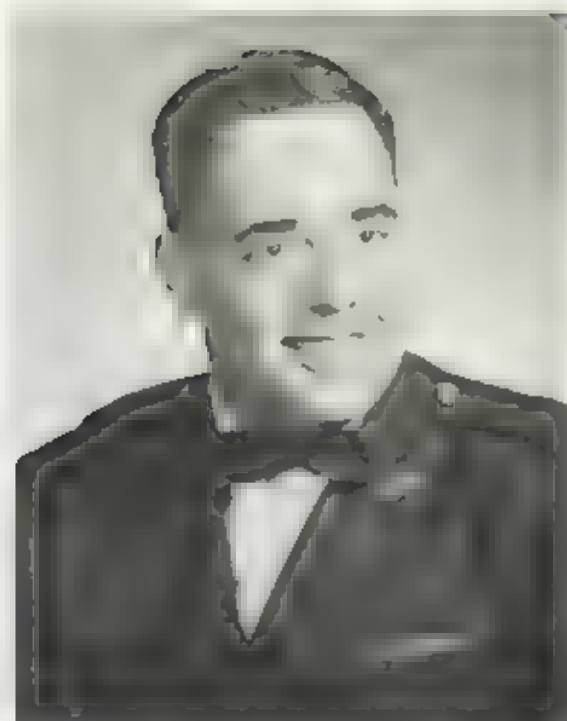

2LT. William J. Froehlich

Bill has been outstanding during his four years at Xavier (and he still hasn't found the door). His attempted take-overs in his activities inspired by his Germanic heritage, have been small but significant struggles toward his goal as "fuhrer" in engineering

SSG. Alex Frolow

Alex, twice a casualty on the "X" Squad, plans to study engineering at Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute. Although he occasionally dozes in class and has the reputation of being the Mad Russian, he is a good friend of both teachers and students

SFC. Nicholas W. Galeota

Nick has carried with him the affectionate title of "Gentle Nick" during his four years at Xavier. He is an inhabitant of the wilds of Brooklyn and that in itself explains why he is so well liked. Nicky hopes to follow a career in medicine and is one of the best liked and most congenial students at Xavier

PFC. James J. Garibaldi

Known around Xavier as "Big Jim" because of his 6'6", 200 lb. frame, he plans to attend Villanova. He will take a political science course, hoping for a law degree. Jim has never lost his sense of humor and congenial attitude. He is usually heard congratulating people with a friendly "Good, Dummy."

PFC. Bruce D. Gasparo

Bruce plans on going to college. He likes music and art and is usually found doing one or the other

PVT. Daniel F. Geiss

Dan is well-known to many of the students and members of the faculty. When it comes to trouble Dan seems to be a victim of circumstances. He would like to attend Fairfield and I feel he will do well . . . if there are no circumstances around

SGT. John D. George

Jack, who enjoyed intramurals most at Xavier, hopes to study medicine at either St. John's or Fordham. Football rates high with Jack as well as Friday nights and memories of freshman Latin. Good luck, Jack, in college.

2LT. Stephen A. George

When in Flushing beware of the "yellow streak." Don't get me wrong, this is Steve in his yellow six cylinder mustang. "Yellow streak" has brightened many of our days with his humor and his brilliance, but sometimes he gets egg in his face. We won't forget you, Steve.

CPL. Gasper V. Gerardi

Now that his four years at Xavier are over, "Gar" plans to relax and enjoy college life on the S.J.U. campus. His friends at Xavier always knew just where to find him—in the Senior Room. At St. John's he plans to study math.

2LT. Thomas J. Goldrick

A patron of Steuben's Restaurant, Tom can usually be heard saying "Uhhh." He would like to study engineering at Notre Dame and try out for the football team.

2LT. Louis R. Gomez

Lou hopes to study engineering at Seton Hall. He enjoys "vette" and "442" action combined with good looking girls. The X-Squad, his main extra-curricular, usually keeps him in stitches.

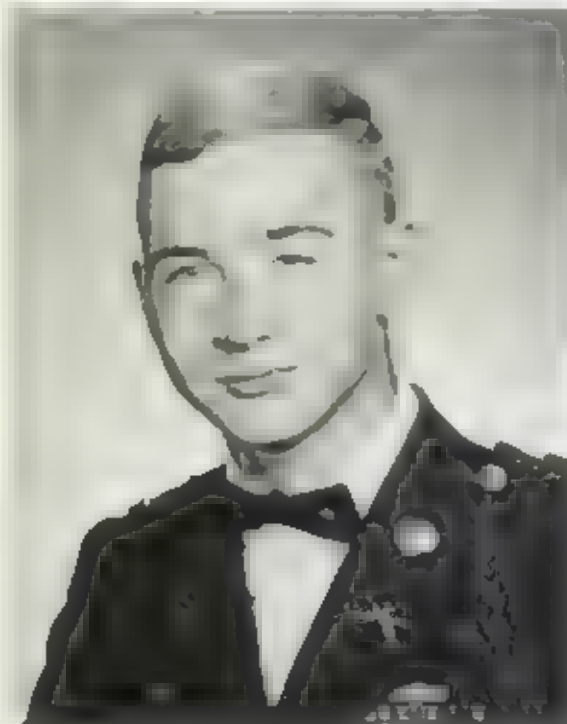

1LT. Julius E. Gonzalez

Besides being one of senior year's most liked students, the Puma has distinguished himself both on the track and gridiron. Academically he has his choice of many colleges, and his strongest field seems to be mathematics. Contrary to popular legend, the Puma is not Mohammed Ali's younger brother.

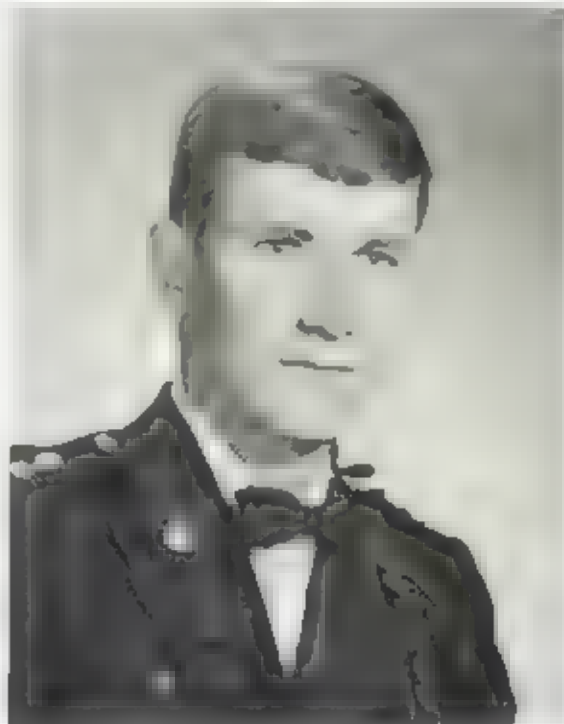

CAPT. Christopher J. Griffin

Griff, a classical lit nut, wants to go to Queens College and study pre-med. His regimental duties have given him a large following among the underclassmen, with sticks and knives. Good Luck!

CAPT. Peter W. Gyves

Pete's quiet nature has been unable to mask his industriousness. As a constant participant in Xavier's athletic program and the Student Council, he has proven to himself to be one who really cares. A successful "cadet" he is highly regarded by his class mates, noted as a hard worker by his teachers, he is respected by all.

CPL. Dale G. Hartophilis

Dale, who plans to go to City College, likes the Air Force, sports and science. He was a member of the Supply Corps and was always seen near the Senior Room and water fountains. Dale always had a smile on his face and enjoyed having fun at Xavier.

MSG. Andrew G. Higgins

Andy, "Lean and Mean" or "The Grip" is strong in his convictions and a real individualist. Columbia is his University, and politics his game. He supported Nixon in '60, Goldwater in '64, Nixon in '68. One out of three isn't bad. Senator Javits, beware, Andy's coming.

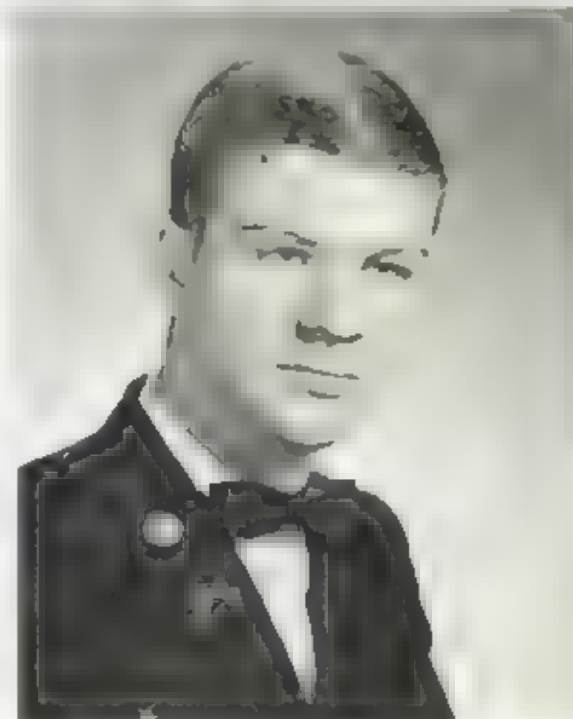

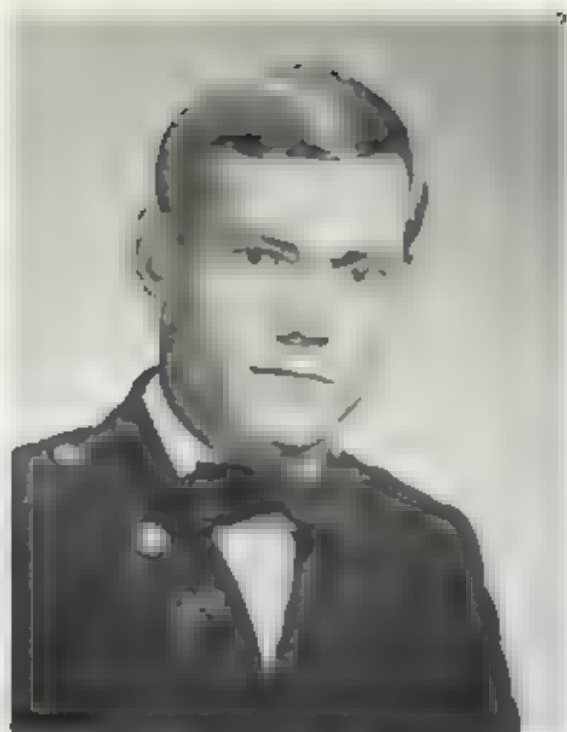

2LT. George C. Hillman

People sometimes put "Stach" down because he is so "collegiate." When the "chicks" are watching he starts hopping up and down and snapping his fingers. But we believe he has the most school spirit. Although he is inactive in basketball this year, he is always there cheering. See you at the dance, George.

SFC. Kevin E. Honan

Kevin is known for his usually conservative viewpoints on most issues. However, his starting the "W. Buckley for President" headquarters in Larkin Hall was a bit much. Nevertheless, undaunted, our patriot eagerly awaits 1972 with his awe-inspiring motto, "What's a Rockefeller?" Kevin plans to go to Georgetown, to straighten out the Foreign Service School. America thanks you, Kevin.

SFC. Robert J. Hubbard

Bob, known better to his classmates as "Hubble," hopes to follow a career in law. He hails from the great state of Brooklyn from where he commutes to school. No one will ever forget his guiding light to his classmates—his saddle shoes.

SGT. Stephen W. Hull

Arlo' Steve is bent on a career in creative writing. This year's top man at Xavier, Steve was the co-founder of the Mount Scumpiemonk Royal Ambulatory Society. Steve hopes to compile his masterpiece someday, "An Annotated Guide to Old-Fashioned Spellunking."

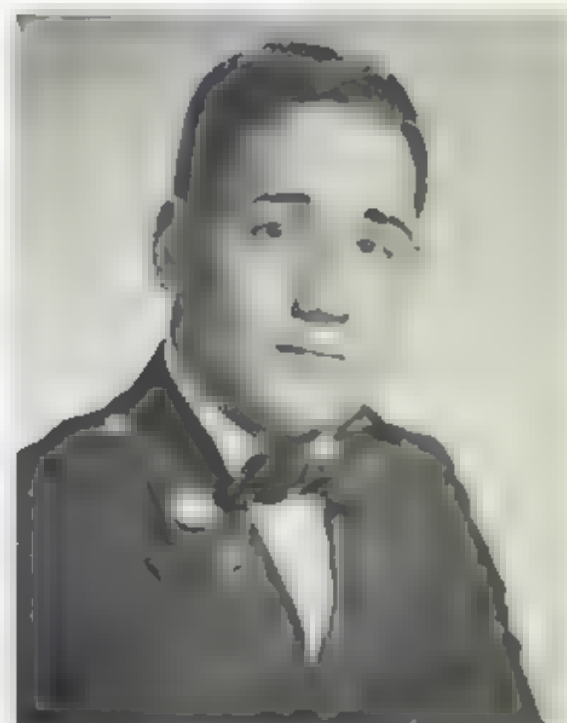

SGT. Thomas L. Horton

Tom, better known as Oaktree to his football buddies, has benefited from his four years at Xavier on and off the gridiron. Tom is a diligent worker in all his classes and has hopes of continuing this type of work in college. After knowing Oaktree for four years, Xavier feels that he got a lot from all its areas.

CPL. Thomas E. Hyzak

Tom has never had a real nickname in four years but this is not due to unpopularity. He is known well as a avid participant in all class sports and excels in basketball which he hopes to play while at Rutgers. Finally he would like to enter engineering after college.

2LT. Alfonso F. Ilaria

"Whale" plans to bless the snow covered hills of Winooski, Vermont with his overwhelming presence. Al plans to major in liberal arts at St. Michael's and then enter law school. With his warm sense of humor and overall friendliness, Al will go far. Picture it "Whale" on skis.

CPL. Thomas V. Incantalupo

You can usually find "Inky" leaning against the corridor walls, formulating theories on nothing in particular. He likes hunting and fishing and plans to become a lifetime usher at Radio City.

MSG. Christian R. Jara

When I asked Chris what college he wanted to attend, in order to have some information for the vignette, I was not able to get any one answer. I then asked him what he wanted to be and he replied, "I have to know what I am first." This is Chris. I need say nothing more.

CAPT. Samuel T. Jennings

Tom has been the silent, studious type. The Bugle Corps took up most of his time his first three years, and in Junior year he was the Drum Major. The Bugle Corps was then known as "The Sgt. Jennings' Lonely Hearts Club Bugle Corps." Now he spends all his time giving orders in the Provost Office.

2LT. Russell P. Kaye

Dedication: "Heck no, I enjoyed helping out at jug." Committent "... wore my Wallace button to the Ball." Humble: "Can't someone else write one so I can choose?" Friendly and Decisive: "If you pop that soda in my face I'll ... phizz ... you've got four, mister."

PVT. Richard J. Knopping

Rich, who is known throughout his year as "The Knopper," is planning to attend any college where they offer surfing as a major. He has been an avid participant in all intramurals and other activities for four years.

SFC. Robert A. Korbelt

Bob, the Johnny Carson of Xavier, has the amazing ability to create a condition of insomnia in all his associates. He should become the greatest of physicians, due to his unusual soporific manner.

PVT. Henry W. Keiser

Hank, who inspires the Basketball Team to victory, can usually be seen talking to his compatriots in senior year, about his exploits on the beaches. He has been through many experiences but his belt has pulled him through.

CAPT. Thomas R. Kosten

"Slide Rule Tom" is indispensable on the day of a Physics Test. Any problem Fr. Lynch can't do, he can. Tom plans to be a (guess what) Physicist?

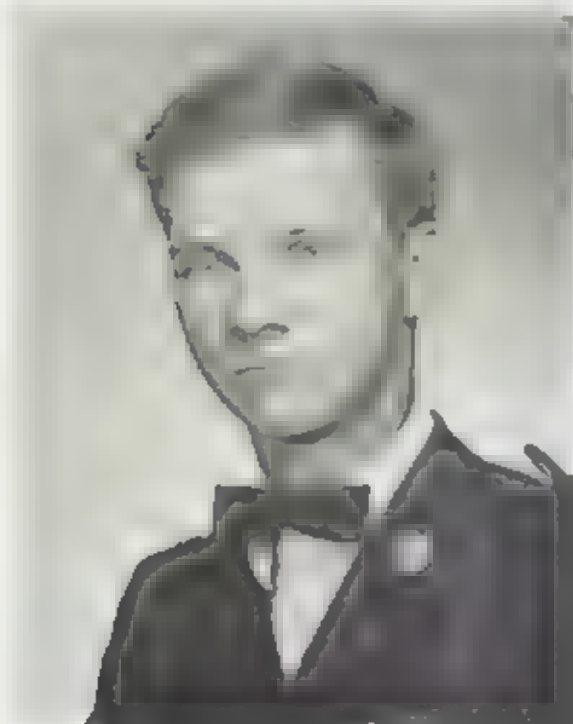

MSG. Edward J. Kuhs

Ed likes to read science fiction and argue with Fr. McDonald in religion class. He plans to study astronautical engineering at Rennselaer. His great aim in life is to read an English book on time

CPL. Augustus F. Labelle

At 8:15 there comes a roar!!! and on 16th St. you'll see Gus and his car. The first to arrive and the last to leave. If Fordham doesn't get him the Army will

MSG. Peter X. Lamparello

Rocky hopes to become a doctor, and Georgetown University seems to be his choice of schools. He appreciated his four years at Xavier and hopes to achieve the same in his college life. Others appreciated Peter as the Senior Coordinator of the Social Apostolate

PVT. Henry E. Laura

Henry, an active member of the political science club and a person involved in the current political scene has been co-head of the Save Biafra Committee. He hopes to attend Iona College and become an English teacher

PVT. Robert A. Lane

Nicknamed the Bod because of his good looks, he can be seen many a day popping from the outside in the Gym. His personality and feelings for others makes him one of the best liked guys in the school

PFC. Thomas J. Lawler

Tom, so he says, is one of the nicest people in the world. According to him he is handsome, muscular, and very attractive to girls. He hopes to attend Fordham and study law. He will make it big in life if his one bad quality, modesty, doesn't hold him back

MSG. Robert J. Layton

Bob, a quiet but good-natured fellow, can usually be seen dashing down the hall after the second bell, late for class, or down in Larkin Hall eating a box of Cracker Jacks, busily putting together the free prize. Bob aspires to continue his education at Holy Cross in the true Layton tradition

SGT. Joseph P. Lazzopina

Joe, influenced by his work in a funeral home, plans to attend McCallister's Institute for Funeral Services. He enjoys eating, embalming, girls, and driving. Known for his "athletic prowess," he will always be remembered at gym classes

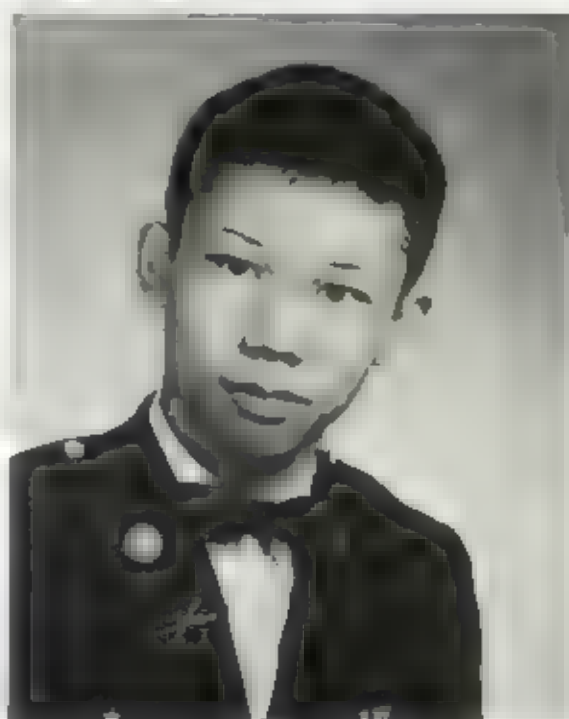

MAJ. Roman A. Lechicky

Roman has been bitten by the military bug. He plans to study at West Point with the hope of eventually joining America's aerospace team. Reliable sources have it that his secret ambition is to command a lunar drill team. It shows you what four years on the X-Squad can do

SSG. Dennis P. Logan

Dess, as he is known to the Senior Room regulars, is always ready to join in the fun. He is a member in good standing of the Senior Room Athletic Association. Dess, a typical Long Islander, is always ready to talk about surfing and girls. He plans to attend Manhattan College for psychology

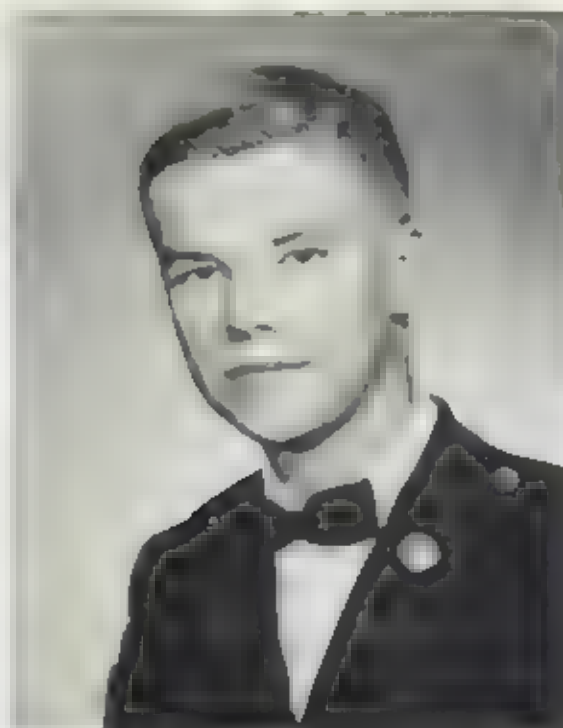

SFC. William G. Lok

The things that make his image enterprising. "I get a 2¢ kickback on every pack of Twinkies you buy." Competitive: "Listen, buy from me or I'll get the Tong after you." Helpful: rents hangers to the school for the coat check. Great: always friendly and there to help

CAPT. Angelo J. Lucco

Ange's main ambition in life seems to be to give Burton competition. He will probably be remembered as the most refreshing talent to come to Xavier in a long time, and he knows it. Ange is a real swinger and to us he will always be the cheerful guy with a song to be sung

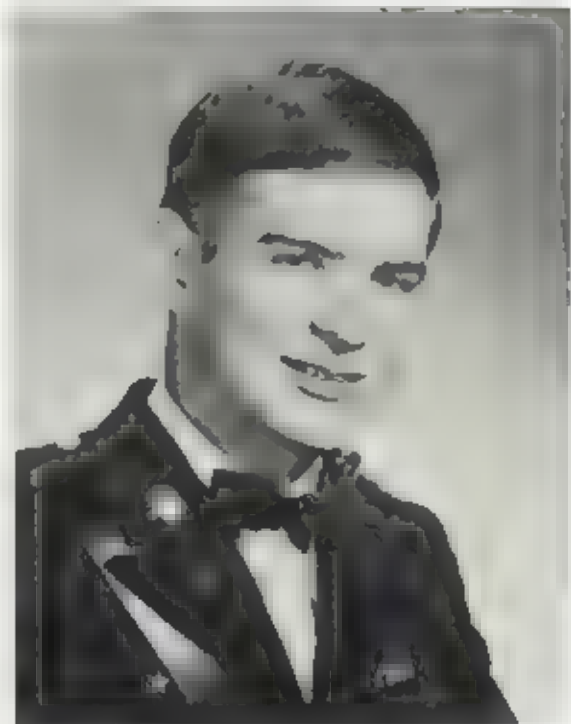

1LT. Gregory M. Westrack

Mild mannered Westrack actually leads a double life at Xavier. That quiet student who sits, or dozes, in class is also a starter on both the Football and Tennis teams. Having made many good friends at Xavier, including Mr. Feeney, S.J., Greg hopes for a life that will be Best'

MSG. James F. Lynch

Jim ("Joe Military") has gained a reputation as a crackerjack N.C.O. His ability with the organ proved itself at a few of our more successful dances. He's probably going to be a lawyer due to his mastery of the language. 'Get that hat on your head, mister.'

1LT. Michael D. Lynn

If there was no such thing as sarcasm Mike wouldn't be able to talk. Known as the silent partner of the Oriental bluebook monopoly, he is reliable to say, "Give me a piece of paper." Mike is a member of the school's literary staff. "Yeah, right!" "Clear the hall!"
(Grazing at Central—

CPL. Kenneth J. Macko

If you ever disturbed "the mouse" while he is on the prowl at an Xavier dance he would probably slap you in the face and yell, "You hamburger." Ken has participated in J.V. and Varsity swimming and plans to prepare for college by spending the summer as a beach bum at Rockaway Beach

2LT. Philip A. Marraccini

Phil, otherwise known as the lead-footed marauder (especially when he's behind the wheel of a car), has also been a familiar face around other places but we won't mention them here. His only claim to success and fame is that he has a caboose in his yard. Best of luck in college, Phil

CAPT. Rafael D. Martinez

Rafe, known mostly for his Spanish humor, his ability to portray the English language and his suave Latin handling of women will probably be very successful in his chosen field, engineering, at N.Y.U.

1LT. Eugene K. Martino

One of our pumas from the Sty-town contingent, Gino has no mischief in him—much! You can always find him at Xavier dances with a girl, or maybe at Don's, or as a last resort with the Scottsman at Van Cortlandt. "Ho?" Hey, Belli, will you cut it out?"

SGT. Stephen C. Masullo

Stephen, otherwise known as "Goose" by his friends, has an insatiable appetite for knowledge and reading. When he is not playing or coaching basketball, he steals away by himself to listen to Beethoven, Bach and Bizet, or off to a museum. Typically, he still has not decided on future plans.

2LT Michael J. Matcovich

"Anyone who goes through three years of Greek can't be all bad, but . . ." You wouldn't say Mike is conservative but he thinks Bill Buckley is a pinko. Seriously 2G wishes you well.

SFC. Anthony G. Matthews

Nicknamed Scourge since his sophomore year, Tony is one of the friendliest people in senior year. He has been a member of the Rifle Team since freshman year and is always one of the top scorers. Tony hopes to go to N.Y.U. and major in Chemistry.

SGT. Robert T. McDonald

One of Mr. Scott's most ardent track men (Belmont and Aqueduct), Mac is a strong proponent of schola brevis. Always well trimmed, he is a living example of a true military cadet. His interest in intramural sports reflects his overall enthusiasm about all aspects of Xavier.

SFC. Patrick J. McGurk

Pat has been well-liked by the many friends he has met while at Xavier. He will be long remembered for his punctual attendance of classes. Pat hopes to attend Boston College next year, where he will major in law.

2LT. Michael F. McHugh

Mike has started many of the fads popular around the school today: listening to obscure records (25 hits, 25 stars), striving to be un-cool, and looking in disbelief at everything. He wants to be a hitch-hiking doctor.

2LT. James C. McMahon

The class of '69 will always remember the dynamic leadership of the omnipresent "Captain Xavier." Jim modeled himself after the tradition of the Xavier Bull. Jim hopes one fine day to return to his alma mater and teach in the Classics Department.

1LT. Roger P. McTiernan

Roger is an officer. How, he doesn't know. His close friends know that he can be serious, but these times are hard to find. His team-mates know that he can hit, run, and catch a pass—the Daily News noticed too; Roger was all-city this year. Roger wants to major in football in college.

2LT. Holger H. Menendez

Huey wants to be remembered as a starving, unappreciated artist. Considering he came here on a scholarship, he probably was never short of meal money. The starving was just for laughs. So were his paintings. His work is easy to recognize; he enjoyed painting people's heads on backwards.

2LT. Joachim T. Mihalick

Jack is the athletic supporter of his classes' intramural teams. He's also got a pretty good racquet going for him on the tennis team. He's really a great guy and can always be seen with a big smile on his face. Jack is still awaiting word on his candidacy for the naval academy.

1LT. Michael F. Monahan

Certainly one of the most popular students in the year, "Mighty Mike" was known as being "pound for pound, the best athlete in the school," for his versatility in track despite his lack of size. Always ready to help a friend, Mike will be missed when he attends Queens College next fall.

1LT. Daniel P. Mooney

Everyday for four years the moon has been riding the rails two hours day and night. He has the distinction of being the student who lives farthest away from the school. Dan, who has been on the swimming team for three years, hopes to go to Holy Cross next year.

2LT. William E. Miller

Ernie is a comic, novice psychologist, cynic, a poet, and loser of the Chairman election by four votes. He is easy-going and a wanderer and a drawer of caricatures of those he doesn't like.

PVT. Walter D. Mooney

Walt is that fleeting figure frequently found in the fourth floor radio shack, the secret leader of the subversive Radio Club. He is planning to follow his studies at Brooklyn Polytech with a major in electrical engineering and English Literature.

2LT. Frank R. Moran

"Mugsy" has interests ranging from tutoring to writing and editing sports for THE REVIEW. Ask Frank about any sporting event, from Randall's Island to The Garden and he suddenly becomes Xavier's answer man. Frank has distinguished himself on the Tennis, Basketball, and Cross-Country teams. Frank plans to study at Holy Cross.

2LT. Robert D. Murphy

If you asked Bob to tell you about himself he would probably start by telling about his magnetic personality, that he is a true actor on and off stage, and wind up, if he ever winds up, by explaining how he is well tailored for Amherst. The best thing to do is stick out your tongue and walk away.

SFC. Robert G. Murray

Bullet, living proof of the fact that you can live clean and have fun at the same time, has a unique sense of humor. Bob follows the some-times dismal basketball fortunes of Seton Hall, where he plans to matriculate. He also wants to go to college there.

2LT. Stephen T. Murtha

Steve, a physics honor student, can be heard daily asking diligent students what's going on in class. He has never earned a Co-captain's position on the tennis team. His quick wit and satiric humor add to his great personality. The class will be in for a treat when Steve drives up in his TR-4.

2LT. Thomas P. Murphy

The always smiling Tom has been an active member in school athletics since his first days at Xavier. This included three years of football and four of track. This Great Necker is known for his never ending search for a good time. This search will probably continue next year at Boston College.

PFC. Andrew J. Napolitano

When "funny man" Nap runs into a crowd, you will soon see there is no longer a crowd. This is due to the fact that he always has a ready joke. He has two sides, the brilliant one which scores 700s on the boards, and the one we know.

CPL. Francis J. Nastasi

Frank, a student of brilliant potential and ability in most courses, plans to attend Fordham University and try to attain a B.S. in Business Administration, and from there go on to Law school. After that, he will throw the bull at judges instead of teachers.

MSG. Alejandro A. Navia

Alejandro Aurelio De Jesus Navia Moya is a guy who has survived four years at Xavier and has still come out smiling. Alejandro's experiences at Xavier have prepared him for Brooklyn Poly where he hopes to excel. Good Luck!

LTC. Gerard M. Nolan

"Now-or-Never Nolan" finally struck it rich as linebacker in the 1968 football season. Gerry plays the dual role of high-ranking officer and eggman at the lunch table. He hopes to complete an engineering course at Notre Dame on a Naval ROTC scholarship

CAPT. Raymond V. O'Connor

"LIKEABILITY" is probably the word that best characterizes the Bear Cub. There is hardly a guy in the year who doesn't know Ray, and hardly a guy who can't call him a friend. Ray has demonstrated two unique attributes: the ability to get along with everyone and to give freely of himself. Ray hopes to study liberal arts at Georgetown

CPL. Robert M. O'Grady

"And after St. Michael's I'm going up to D.A. and after that . . ." The only guy called "Sleepy" who sits five feet in front of the teacher. Maroon colored super-rabbit. "Mr. Rippon, the nitro solution overreacted, but the Physics Lab is still up there—most of it."

CPL. Thomas J. O'Hara

Tom came to us in his Junior Year from Cleveland, the fun capital of the East, to display his exceptional ability at guard. He was aptly characterized by a sports columnist as "small, quick, and determined." Tom, achieving his position in the regiment in two years, plans to follow the military at King's Point

1LT. Richard J. O'Rourke

Ricky personifies the age-old maxim of brains over brawn. An offensive stalwart for the Kaydets, he was renowned for his good sportsmanship and overwhelming sense of fair play. The hallowed halls will long remember his brilliant eloquence

SFC. Stephen P. O'Rourke

Best known for his colorful gridiron tactics, Steve is active in several channels of social service and volunteer activity. He spent many active hours working for the student council, trying to make it the effective body he hoped it would one day be

PVT. Robert Paquette

Bob always manages to brighten up the school. His shiny, gleam-white teeth reflect the dimmest light. His jokes reflect his dim sense of humor. Bob will succeed because no one can withstand his outgoing personality.

PVT. Michael J. Parker

One of the "Island Boys," he can usually be found either fixing or driving his car. He is a good friend of "Doc's." He enjoys hanging out with his friends from the Island. You can always hear him calling "Doooo." He might attend New York Tech., but is planning to go to St. John's.

CPL. John A. Pettinato

After graduation Johnny plans to continue his studies, although he doesn't know what he intends to do. He does know, however, that he enjoys the company of several girls, and is best suited for the role of a playboy. He is a strong advocate of student freedom and action.

PVT. Joseph L. Pfeifer

Joe has a real liking for English class, as is evidenced by his outstanding participation. There's no doubt about it, Joe is going to study pre-med next year. He eventually plans to enter the Peace Corps.

MSG. Brian J. Pickard

As an active student, Brian seems to be everywhere at once. His outward and serious personality has gained him many loyal friends, and his eternal smile is often contagious. Brian hopes to go to Maryknoll College.

SSG. John T. Picone

Jack ("Spider") wants to study Engineering at Marquette. A hard choice for him would be between a "Road Runner" or a blonde, and on a Monday morning in the Senior Room, that's all you hear from him.

2LT. Alain R. Porte

He is known to most people affectionately as Lance (why he is called this is one of the big mysteries here). He is one of those volatile Frenchmen and he is great at rebounding hubcaps (ask Mr. Galbraith). He is hoping to go into economics or some related field

1LT. Michael A. Postiglione

Mike "The Frog" Post has already begun to work as an engineer. If he isn't a success in this field, he can always continue playing bass guitar, provided he learns how. Somewhat nearsighted, he tells friend and foe alike to "Get their bucks up."

2LT. John L. Prevete

"Dude" is a star football player (choke) and is well known at Xavier for his daring crusade against commies, pinkoes, and members of the leftist Political Science Club. Dude will continue his work at Cornell, where he has been awarded a scholarship and a list of suspected reds

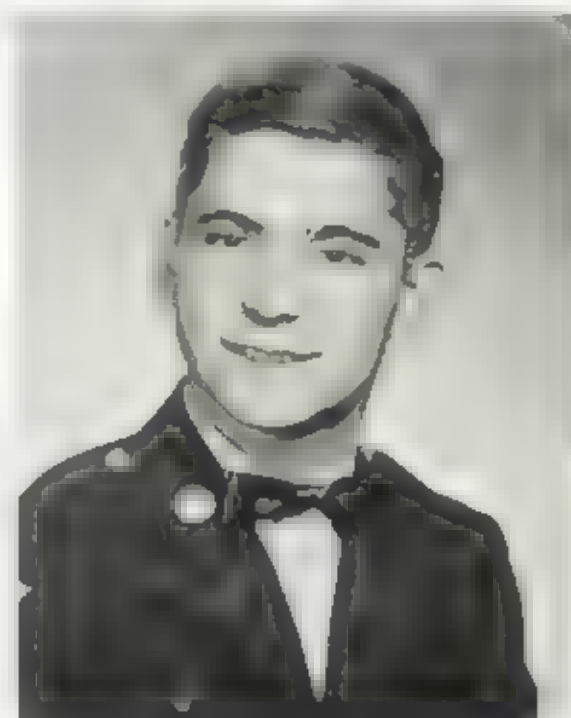

2LT. William J. Quigley

Bill, a student of the bends (a fantastic swimmer) and great tennis player, is not affected by his house full of trophies, but rather he is a regular guy and a thinker, eager to find out what life is all about. At times he sneaks away to his "Walden Pond" and stomps grapes

PVT. Fred A. Quintiliani

Freddy plans to attend Fordham U after graduation and then will proceed to receive a teaching degree, despite some rumors of his becoming a priest. A soul lover of Aretha Franklin. Freddy's primary goal in life is to pass an inspection

MSG. Mark A. Radice

Behind the face you see above lies a mind concerned mainly with German. Music and Europe. The reason he is smiling is that he has just thought of an old German expression to describe to you. Too bad you don't speak German. Get the picture? Mark intends to follow a career as a teacher and take some of his years in Europe.

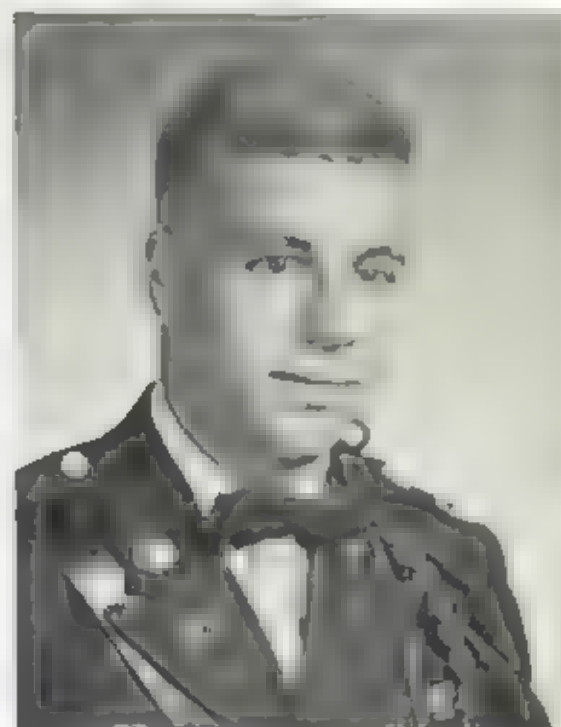

PFC. Hugh G. Radigan

Although bitterly disappointed when he failed to make Colonel, Hughie hasn't lost his famous quick wit. You can usually find him in Larkin Hall helping some underclassman with an assignment, and his life's ambition is to understand the questions on Mr. Mannion's History tests

2LT. Christopher J. Raleigh

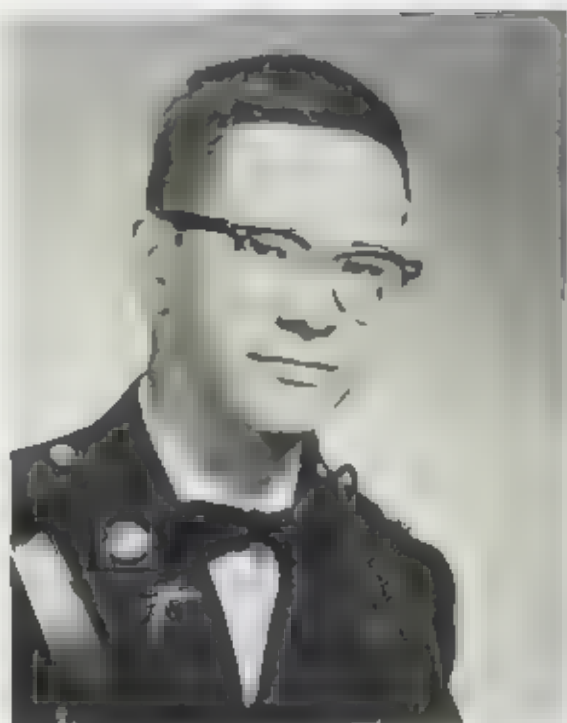

"Father" or "King" Chris plans to study Liberal Arts at St. Peter's. He is probably best known for his constant affirmation: "This is True." To those who know him well, however, he is more than this: he is a dedicated friend

1LT. Thomas C. Re

"Now listen, you don't understand! Now listen!" What would Physics class be without Tommy, always ready with a relevant question. "O K. but . . ."

Do you want to see a beautiful dog?" "I just want to say that . . ." He'd like to study Medicine at Cornell. "I'd just like to say that . . ."

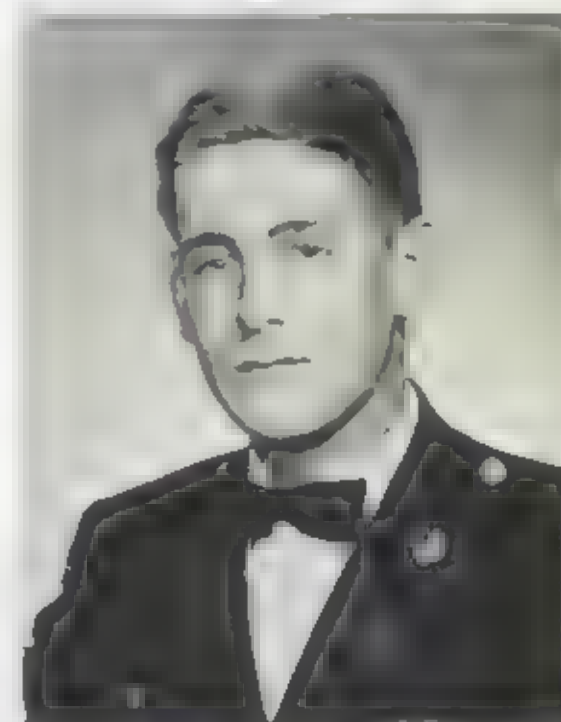

CAPT. Robert G. Reinhart

St. Michael's every day except Sunday. "You're kidding." Most relaxed man in the gym. "R-r-ruf ruf rufus." "I'd feel terrible afterwards." "My date and I are going to the right; you people go left." "This is the Advanced Physics book?" "Someday I'll write something the magazine can print."

PFC. Richard J. Reynolds

The gambler's lust is in his blood, but B J.'s notoriety as an unbeatable card-shark prohibits him from finding a game with his classmates. With a little luck, he'll be studying law and rolling dice at Duke U. next year

SSG. Francis D. Ribaudo

On a typical day after school Frank can be found down in the new gym working with the stage crew—or annoying Mr. Rafter. Frank plans to become an engineer and hopes to attend either Stevens College or Rensselaer

MSG. William K. Richardson

A fun-loving "goof-off," Rich will attend University of Connecticut and would like to be an accountant. He will always be remembered for his love of his history courses and hopes to follow in the footsteps of Mr. McLaughlin. His one ambition is to date Raquel Welch, etc

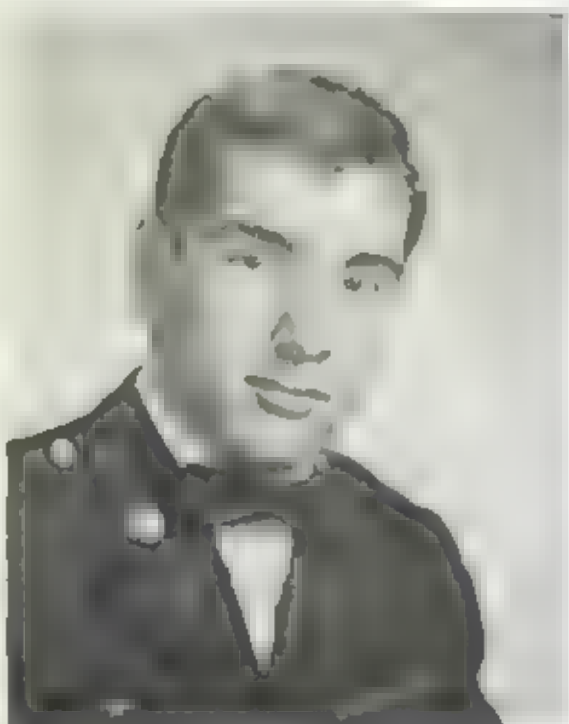

CAPT. Casey Rogers

Cas Rogers wishes, as one may expect, to attend the United States Military Academy at West Point. He then wants to attend Military Police School and enter the service. He prides himself on his red cord, highly shined shoes, and his perfect knowledge of the cadet general order

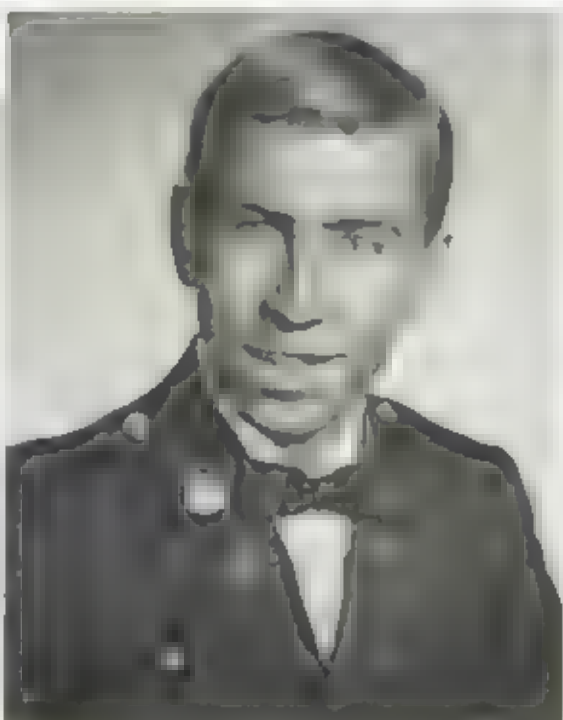

PVT. Paul Roik

When Paul leaves Xavier, he will leave a big vacuum to fill. His ominous presence and mellow outlook on life characterize Paul as a gentle giant. Xavier will lose that certain "Rukish" quality and all his biddy buddies will miss him

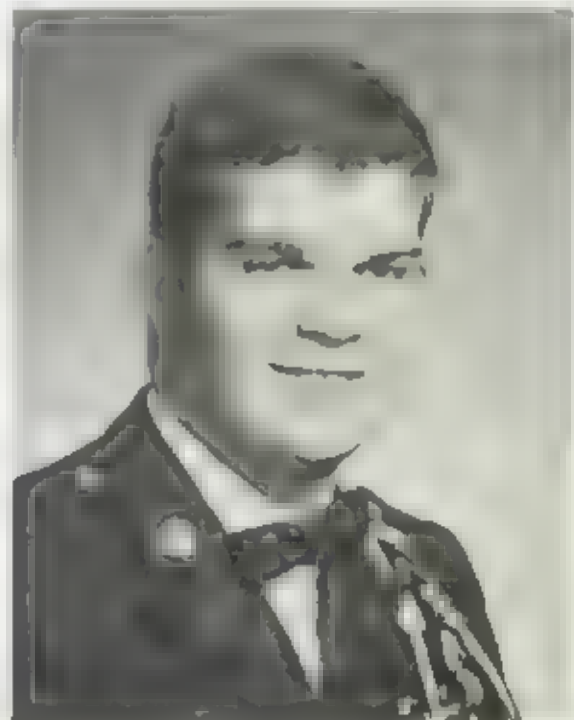

MSG. Paul D. Romano

"Touchdown" has received many benefits from his academic and athletic life here at Xavier. His accomplishments are All-Conference second string linesman and a successful science honors program. Paul hopes to take pre med at William and Mary College

PVT. Stephen E. Russack

Steve, known to his friends as Mug, hopes to attend Villanova University. If he does not go to college, he intends to enlist in the Navy. He was on the football team and excelled on all special units or as they are better known, the "suicide squad."

PVT. James G. Ryan

Jim was nick-named "Jules" because of his likeness to Julius Caesar. Some people believe he is accumulating arms in his closet. Because of his broad smile and sighting ability for the rifle team, he has been red-shirted, but we hope he will march out with us this year

1LT. John M. Sabalja

To look at John in Freshman year, you'd never think he'd grow up to be a general in the JROTCBA. Now, you just don't believe it. Yes, John, there is a JROTCBA. John's not set on college yet, but he wants to teach high school French. Seriously, it's been great. Good luck!

2LT. Frank J. Sammartino

What makes Sammy run? Not much. An easy going fellow, he has calmly struggled off any problems that he encountered during his years at Xavier. A leading student, Frank coolly maintains that he has learned how to succeed in Xavier without really trying.

PVT. Vincent T. Sanchez

"Poncho" enjoys swinging his racquet for the Xavier Tennis Team when he is not studying Math in the Senior Room. He wants to attend Pace College and study System Analysis. "Poncho" has a talent for timing the bells to the second, but it is a shame he can't get to school on time.

2LT. Charles L. Sangermano

One of Mr. Thompson's prize Math students, "Chuck" is known for his warm personality and his fine Italian background. He plans to attend Douglaston College and has intentions of entering the priesthood, after which he promises to give free baptisms to all the children of Xavier grads.

PVT. Thomas P. Schmidt

Besides being a charter member of the notorious East River Crowd, Tom is very kind to his mother. Tom will be missed by students and faculty alike. As one teacher puts it, "that zany madcap cadet." Tom's future plans? "I want to be a U-boat commander." What more can you say about Tom? "Void where prohibited."

PVT. Christopher J. Schwing

Chris has been well-liked by his fellow students during his stay at Xavier. Chris is as yet undecided about his career but in whatever he does we all wish him the best of success.

CPL. Frank E. Scott

Frank is a quiet sort of guy, and the scourge of the bowling alley. Our outstanding intramurals bowler plans to attend Brooklyn College next year.

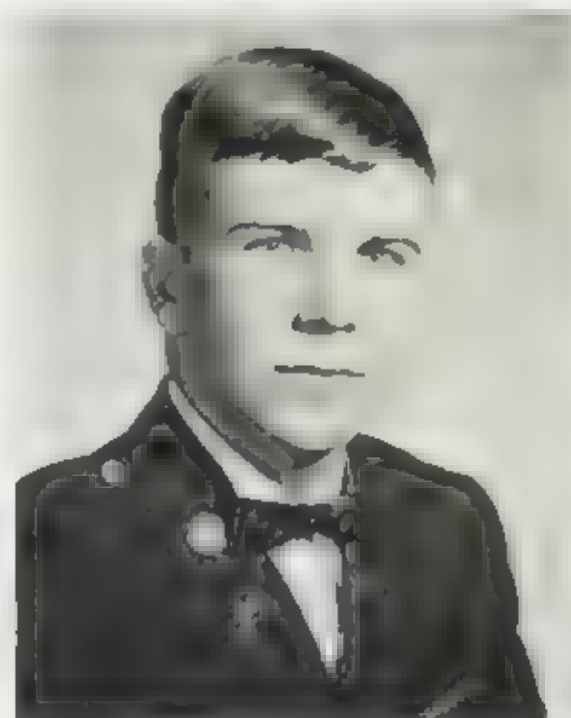

SSG. Daniel P. Szczepanski

"Colonel Check," although on the quiet side, is well known throughout senior year. While seemingly off the wall at times, he is serious about his future at Buffalo State.

SGT. Francis J. Serokosz

Possessing capabilities for colleges from Harvard to Staten Island Community College, Frank plans to attend St. Louis University. He leaves Xavier with one regret though—that he hadn't had more time to devote to Physics and polishing his brass.

1LT. Michael D. Sheehan

A member of the speech and debate society, and also dramatics, Mike will undoubtedly be remembered for being a true friend who still doesn't know what "his lord has done with the DEAD body!" He plans to take up history at the University of Pennsylvania.

CPL. Joseph A. Sheridan

Known to many as "Ken," he is always doing his impression of big Mike. Late on Friday nights you can catch his Irish brouhaha. He is a big Long Island Boy and is a good friend of the Schmitter. He hopes to attend Holy Cross in September. Good Luck, Ken!

PVT. Charles J. Smith

Chuck is an avid sports fan. He played football ferociously for Xavier and he plans to play in college. He plans to attend Lehigh University next fall. Chuck is also a fine student and shows some aspects of the all-around young man. Whatever he does with his life will be done well.

MAJ. Cornelius K. Smith

Neil has made permanent his mark at Xavier by his participation in the Student Council, tennis and dramatics. Neil plans to utilize his four year scholarship to Cornell and major in Math. You might hear him talk of his colts or his rides to Ann's house in Brooklyn with Joe Devine.

SGT. Alan P. Sondej

No comment

CPL. John C. Steger

If you are ever at Rockaway perchance you may see a large hairy hand grabbing your sandwich. For sure this will be John. He has thought of a unique way of saving money. That is not to bring any and borrow from everyone else. John really has no goals in life yet.

SGT. Frank J. Stevi

Frank is planning to become a Redman at St. John's. A big school life as a math major is on Frank's calendar for the next four years. He is known to his friends as a Senior Room hangout.

II I. Samuel C. Stowe

Sam's years with the SJs have taught him a valuable lesson of life: "Everyone has a problem, only some more than others." Sam is in constant preparation for his future career. "No, really, it's for my medical research project."

PVT. Conrad J. Strabone

Conrad is best known for his heated discussions in Military Science and winning intramural teams. His intense spirit of competition has made him an excellent athlete. At the same time his crude charm keeps him winning with the girls.

PFC. William F. Sullivan

"Sully" is always himself. He's himself when he's happy, sad, in a groove, disgusted, wild, or cool. Billy is everything. If you really know him, you know everything he is. And besides, he's great.

PVT. Michael J. Sundman

Mike is known to all his fellow seniors as "charmer" primarily due to the effervescent personality with which he enchants young innocent maidens. He has excelled not only academically at Xavier, but athletically as well. As the epitome of excellence, Mike confirms the fact that Military Tactics has made him the man he is today.

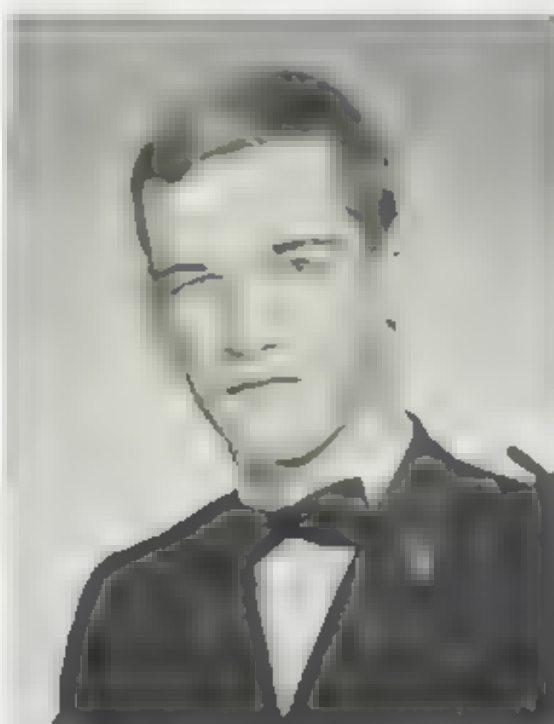

2LT. Thomas J. Sweeney

Tom, better known to his fellow students as "Sweetie," is known for his warm friendship with Sgt. Smith in Junior year. The "true confessions" of his love life, told in the Senior Room, have managed to make everyone's day a little bit brighter. He plans to attend Villanova University.

CPL. Thomas J. Tantiello

Tom, known to the boys as Tio, can be heard in the Senior Room boasting about his Long Island bands. According to Tio there has been about one outstanding band at all of the Xavier dances where he is quite the attraction with his tailored wears. With all kidding aside, Tom is a conscientious worker and plans to major in Biology.

SGM. Michael J. Tierney

Mike is affectionately known to his friends as Snapper. As a Junior, Snapper played basketball and ran track. Currently, he is sports editor of the Review, where he has written many controversial articles. Mike has also displayed outstanding brilliance in all of his studies.

SGT. Michael E. Tofano

Michael is known by his teachers as a quiet and mildly sarcastic young man. His friends call him "Tuff" because of his ability to stand out in all aspects of life. He appears to be a conservative on the outside but his soul is far beyond the connotation of the word "Cool."

PVT. Stephen G. Tomann

Steve is a pudgy, quiet, yet quick witted young man with the sensitivity of someone twice his age. He is an especially artistic boy; a skilled artist and poignant author. He will probably go to the University of Rhode Island and study to be an architect

MAJ. Alfredo M. Torres

Alfie, our Cuban S-4, plans to attend college and specialize in medicine later on. He enjoys karate, baseball, and a good party. Like all Cubans, he is dedicated to the relentless pursuit of members of the opposite sex

1LT. John V. Valentino

John hopes to take a Pre-Med course at either St. Peter's or Fordham. Otherwise known as the "lover," Big Bad John isn't quite up to par with his name's sake. But aside from his love of life, he is a diligent worker. Lots of luck. Doc'

CAPT. Ambrose M. Vallone

Laciturn, pensive, and observant are just a few of "Ambie's" qualities. Involved in the Social Apostolate, Ambrose has shown a great deal of school spirit. A complete description of "Ambie" would have to include his consistently high rank and concern for broadening his intellectual bounds. Good luck at Cornell

PFC. Daniel E. Varley

Dan, who wants to go to Rutgers, is in constant participation of enlightening every class he is in with comic relief. Also he will never be forgotten for his frequent antics in the senior room and Friday nights out with the boys

SFC. Frank T. Veljacic

Frank, known as VJ to all his friends, intends to go to Georgetown where he wants to major in medicine. He will be missed when he leaves Xavier, because he is always seen at its social functions, especially those that take place in Steubenville.

SFC. Thomas R. Viscelli

Tom is one of the few men in senior year who wishes to continue the military way of life in college, namely the Coast Guard Academy. However this is because he is one of the great lovers of German Beer in America

1LT. Robert J. Vogel

Bob was last seen searching for third battalion attendance sheets in the debate room. He plans to pursue personal affairs while studying international affairs at Georgetown. Bob has two life ambitions—to work for the State Department and find the perfect wave at the Jersey shore

PVT. J. Gratton Walsh

Grat, as he wishes to be called, is noted for learning his lessons. Once a teacher had told him to take the gum out of his mouth, he will never chew it again. When you first meet Grat he seems very harsh, but once you know him he is one of the warmest people you could meet

MSG. Robert N. Waring

Bobby hopes to go to University of Miami. He hopes to major in Oceanography and girls. Due to his performance at Xavier and Emil's he should succeed in both

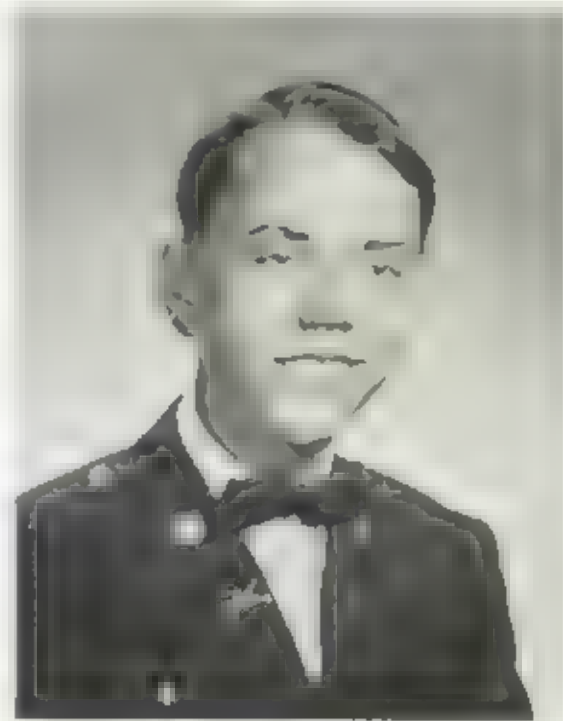

SGM. Glenn H. Lupton

Glen plans to attend RPI next year. Contrary to popular opinion, Glen doesn't live at Xavier, but merely haunts the Chem Lab everyday. Glen likes computers and making smoke bombs, to the dismay of Mr. Rippon

PFC. Stephen G. White

Steve intends to spend the next four years majoring in mathematics. His humorous personality is as explosive as his chemical warfare. He is a true patron of the arts and has been known to say "But Father, I didn't do it."

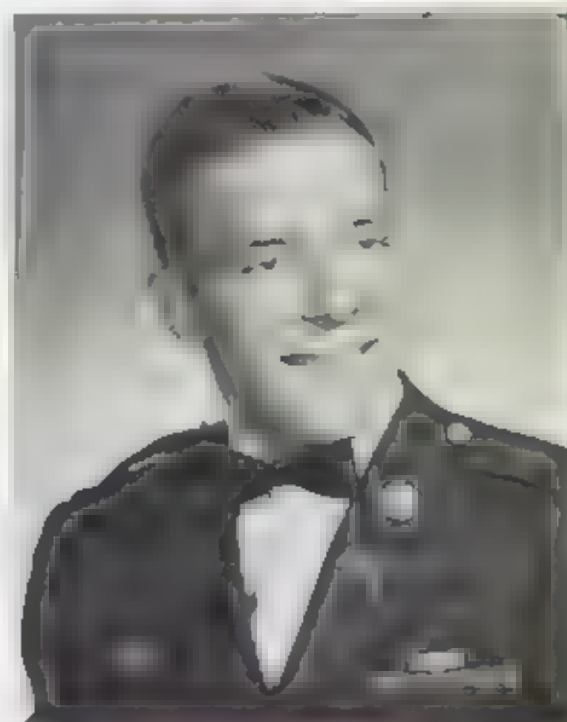

SGT. Gregory M. Wolter

Greg Wolter, who is co-manager of the state crew, wishes to attend Oswego S. U., and afterwards become a teacher of English. He can be found from day to day either working on the stage crew or studying there. His best subject is Chemistry, but he has no intentions of taking it in college

2LT. Daniel C. Wolff

Dan, the Keilbasy Kid, plans to go to Yeshiva, Rutgers, or Columbia. He hopes to explore the inner fields of psychiatry. So as he marches out into the world of '69, look out nuts of the world, beware ye psycho people of the universe, the Keilbasy Kid is on the loose

1LT. Frederick A. Zapka

After four years of roaming the hills of Xavier in his wild clothes, Fred plans to take a Pre-Med course and chase the young kittens taking nursing. Turkey's class was never like this. Good hunting'

2LT. William J. Yozaites

Bill (Yo-Yo) is truly a man to look up to. Most of the Freshmen have to crane their necks. He is respected and liked by all who know him. Bill will become one of America's greatest engineers if he can find the right track

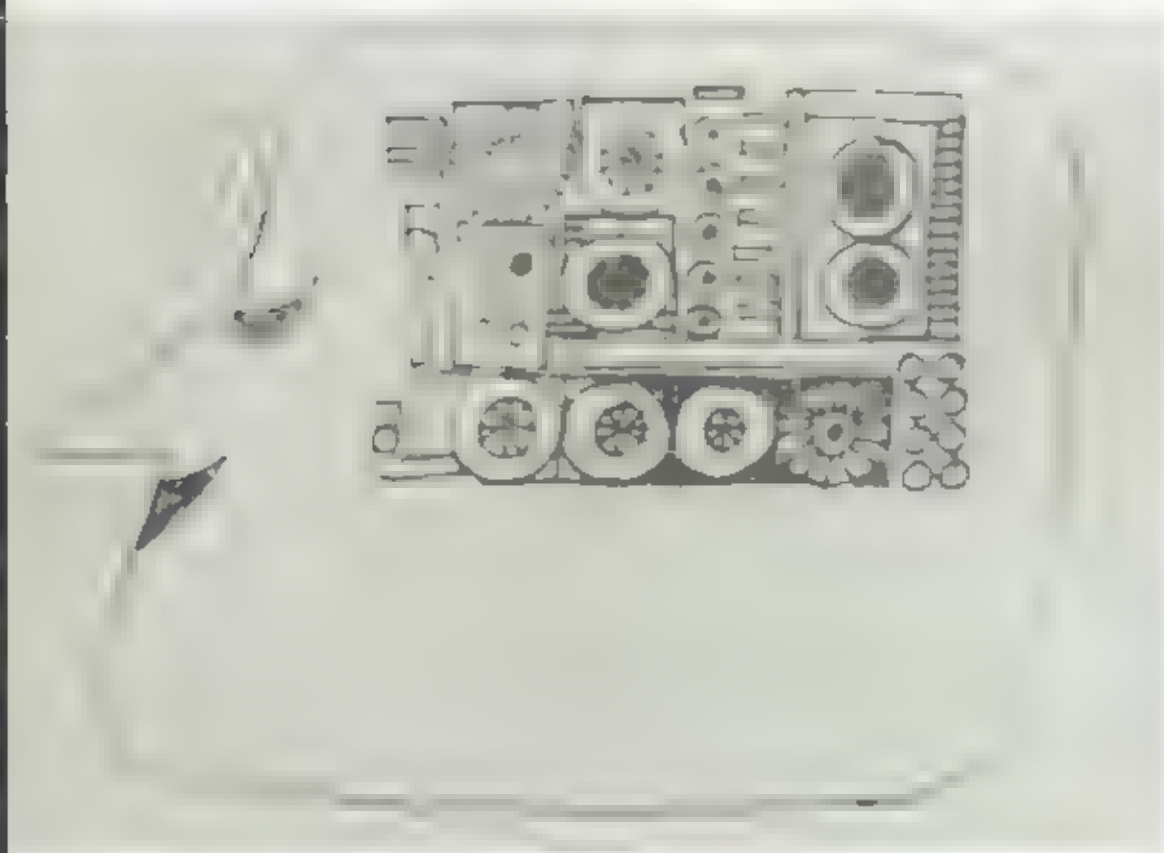

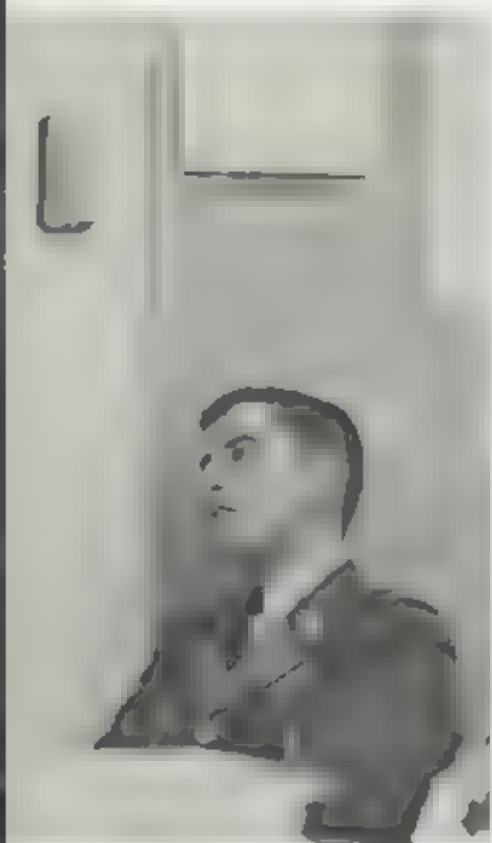

CPL. Peter E. Zampella

Zamp, always known for his enthusiasm in supporting all sports, avidly participated in cross-country, track, and intramurals. Known for his crazy "red hat" he is a big fan of St. Peter's basketball team, where he hopes to go in the fall

We are the thinking generation . . .

We see the world for what it is . . .

... but we do not understand how preceding generations ...

... allowed such things to exist.

We will not become conditioned to hear and read the seemingly everyday words, such as “wounded” . . .

... or “killed”.

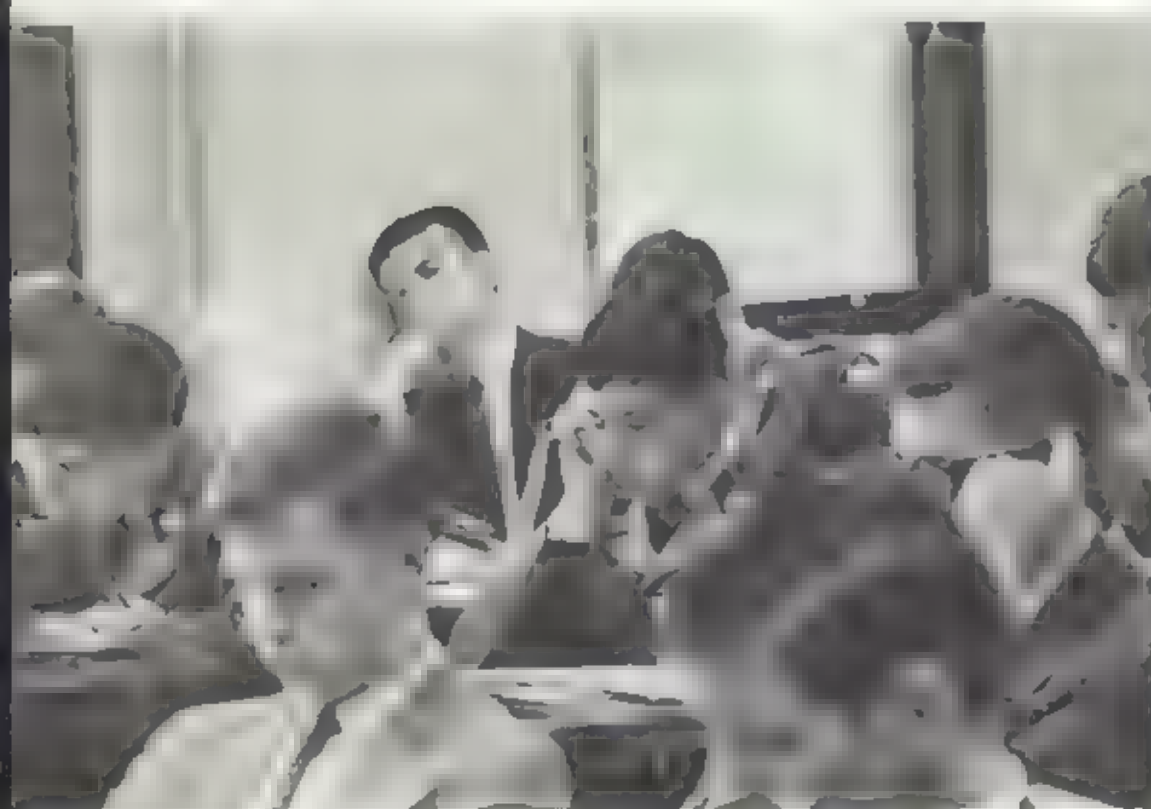

They tell us to slow down,
“Everything takes time.”

We will become zombies . . .

. . . programmed . . .

. . . for indifference.

We want to bring about a change—
and put feeling back into the world.

It is the young who will make the world over.

We have each shared . . .

REV. JOHN J. McDONALD, S.J.
Headmaster

September, 1962 to June, 1969

The foundation of our world is newer and newer things and change is a way of life. We yearn to be new, to grow, to be better. This comes by example New buildings replace old, out-moded courses fade to become new curriculum, new patterns of scheduling become a reality where they were once just an anxious thought, more involvement of teachers and students build new potential and fulfillment. These were all his. We must change, advance, grow, be the best. This is Father McDonald and our growth is his monument as he leaves us.

Thank you and best of luck.

something of one another.
